TRIP BEING MADE

(BULLETIN)
LOS ANGELES, July 13. — (INS) — Investigators tried to learn whether a fist fight between two passengers was the direct cause of the flaming crash of a non-scheduled air liner in which 35 persons were killed and 14 others injured.

The president and chief pilot of Standard Air Lines, operator of the huge C-46 that plunged into a fog-shrouded mountain top near Chatsworth yesterday, expressed the opinion that the bloody fight between the two male passengers caused the disaster.

LOS ANGELES, July 13.
—Investigators today opened a probe into the fiery crash of a non-scheduled airliner which killed 35 persons and injured 14 others and a reported fist fight which may have caused the disaster.

The plane, a C-46 operated by Standard Airlines, smashed into a fog-shrouded mountain top near Chatsworth yesterday.

Agents of the Civil Aeronautics Board headed the investigation under supervision of James N. Peyton, chief of CAA's region six.

According to reports of survivors, the crash followed a bloody struggle between two men passengers a few minutes before the New York-to-Los Angeles plane was to have set down at the Burbank airport.

Detective Douglas C. Ingram quoted one of the passengers as saying that Co-pilot Harold Tucker of Long Beach, Cal., tried to separate the fighting men and was

Workers are busy tearing out the old wood around the Erie railroad tracks at the crossing on West Washington street today, in preparation for the addition of new wood. Automobiles have been receiving quite a jolt when passing over the tracks and there should be quite an improvement when the job is completed.

According to the records in the new city directory which has recently been published, an amazingly large number of residents of New Castle are recorded as owning their own homes. On some streets, from end to end, there are few properties that are not owned by the occupants, the directory shows.

One Vogan street gardener believes in making every inch of ground count. Visiting that section Tuesday, Pa. News found the ingenious gentleman had planted potatoes between the sidewalk and curb at his home. The plants seemed to be doing quite well and should produce a good yield.

If all local residents with vacant lots adjoining their property would work together and cut down the high weeds, hay fever sufferers would be spared at least a part of their suffering which they will be doing at the height of the ragweed season in a few weeks.
Many vacant lots remain unmowed.

Fence which was erected on the Post Office lawn earlier this season has done well to keep people off the lawn and to keep the grass growing at the spot on the corner of West Washington and Jefferson streets where the fence has been erected.

Huge Unexploded Bomb Unearthed
In London Area

LONDON, July 13.—(INS)—A 2200-pound unexploded German bomb was discovered in London's teeming Bloomsbury section today, and a team of engineers began the risky job of digging around the giant missile.

The huge dud bomb was discovered only 40 feet from the University College hospital in Bloomsbury. Three hundred and sixty bed-ridden patients were promptly evacuated and 225 others were removed to safer parts of the building.

The disposal team, which include five Germans, reached the fins of the buried bomb.

Officials said the bomb may be detonated tomorrow, in which case the entire area will be evacuated and all public utilities shut off.

The missile was believed to have fallen during a Luftwaffe air raid in 1941.

Wherry Would Bind President
To Economy Plan

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—
Senate minority leader Wherry (R, Neb.) declared today the military appropriation bill should carry an amendment binding President Truman to economy.

Wherry scoffed at the Senate Democratic Steering committee for calling the McClellan economy resolution "premature" and declared:

"They shouldn't hide behind the mechanics of establishing an economy policy. The Democratic administration ought to suggest their way of doing the job.

"I invite them here and now to join us in trimming every one of the appropriation bills still to come up and have the resolution apply only to those that have gone before.

Would Require Cuts
"If they want to do it by a precision bill which would apply a retroactive percentage cut on appropriations," or amendment, I would not be adverse to it, if Sen.
McClellan is agreeable."

The resolution by Sen. McClellan (D, Ark.) would require the president to make cuts of from five to ten per cent in all executive expenditures, with no slash to be more than 20 per cent in any one agency. Sixty-three sena-

Army Convoy To Test New Russian
Curbs On Traffic

Unarmed Convoy Of 60 U. S.
Army Trucks Rolls Toward Helmstedt

BERLIN, July 13.—(INS)—An unarmed convoy of 60 U. S. Army trucks rolled toward the zonal checkpoint of Helmstedt today to test new Russian curbs on motor traffic from West Germany to Berlin.

The convoy, escorted by jeep-borne military police—carrying pistols but no ammunition—is expected to reach Helmstedt at the British-Soviet border late today.

American officials termed the food-bearing convoy the first of a weekly "routine training exercise" and said the decision to send the trucks to Berlin was taken before the new Soviet restrictions went into effect.

Thus far, military convoys have not been stopped by the Soviets.
However, German vehicles bound for Berlin have been subjected to lengthy delays at Helmstedt which have reduced the flow of traffic to four trucks an hour. Truck tonnage to Berlin has been thus reduced to one-tenth of its normal volume.

Disagree On Whether Treaty Obligates U. S. To Re-arm Europe

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—
Sen. Carl (R) Wash., heretofore a member of the "doubtful" camp came out today for ratification of the North Atlantic security pact.

Cain announced support of the treaty as a clash between Sens.
Dulles (R) N. Y., and Taft (R) O. put new life into senate debate over the 12-nation alliance.

Dulles, a GOP foreign policy expert, and Taft, a recognized Republican leader on domestic issues, disagreed flatly on whether the treaty obligates the country to rearm Europe.

"Excessive and Unnecessary" However, Dulles under sharp and prolonged questioning on the senate floor, disclosed that he considered the European rearmament program the administration is about to send congress, to be "excessive and unnecessary." The New Yorker said he "will vote against it in its present form.

The arms program, estimated to cost one billion 130 million dollars the first year, will be sent to congress as soon as the pact clears the senate.

A date for a final vote on the alliance still is up in the air.
Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., said that a Saturday session will be held in the hope of completing senate action this week.

Others said that so many senators want to speak, they doubt a vote would be reached this week.
Leaders claim ratification without reservations is still "in the bag."

Proclamation Of

Workers Refuse To Handle
Troop-Unloaded Supplies
From Ships

PICKET LINES ARE THROWN UP

By HOWARD BERRY
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 13.—Britain's labor headaches intensified today when thousands of workers refused to handle troop-unloaded supplies and the number of striking London dockers rose to 13,756.

Unmindful of a royal proclamation of a state of emergency in the London area, the disgruntled longshoremen increased their ranks and threw up picket lines along the wharves for the first time.

Some of the signs appealed to truck drivers to refuse to carry stores handled by the 2700 servicemen now attempting to remove perishable goods for the 132 idled vessels. They read:

"Road haulage—we need your support."

Boycott Extended
More than half of London's 25-000 longshoremen are now involved in the crippling walkout.
Other workers, notably in meat packing, trucking, and on harbor barges and tugs, have decided to boycott any goods unloaded by troops.

Labor Minister George Isaacs will broadcast to the nation later today and appeal to the dockers to return to work. Officials of the labor government have indicated they believe the walkouts are Communist-inspired.

Seek Action To Halt Pollution
Of Slippery Rock

Alarmed by increased pollution in the Slippery Rock creek, an appeal was made today to the Sanitary Water Board of the Commonwealth, to take immediate measures to correct the situation.

In the past week, according to reports received by The News, a series of checks has been made of the water and it has found to be polluted. Further investigation reveals that there is an excess of sewage from Grove City finding its way into Wolf creek and from there into the Slippery Rock.

Promise Action
The News today called the office of the Sanitary Water board in Harrisburg and was referred to Mr. Young of the engineering department. He expressed interest in the situation and said that he would call the district engineer of the department in Meadville and have him come to Lawrence county, today, if possible.

Mr. Young said they knew of the situation in Grove City, that there was inadequate and that plans were being drawn for an enlarged plant.

"It is quite impossible to make such an improvement over night," said Mr. Young, "but we will go into the matter immediately to see what temporary measures might be worked out. In the meantime we will press for the construction of the improvements to the Grove City disposal plant."

Seeking To Identify

BOMBAY, July 13.—A group of American correspondents today began the grisly task of identifying the bodies of 14 of their col-dia's worst aviation disaster.

The correspondents arrived from New Delhi, along with American Ambassador Loy W. Henderson, who visited the scene of the crash, 17 miles north of Bombay near the Santa Cruz airfield.

Henderson will attend the fuwoman, which is expected to take place at the European cemetery in Bombay later today.

Pacific Alliance
Not Considered
By United States

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary of State Acheson declared today that no Pacific alliance is under consideration by the United States at the present time.

Acheson told his news conference that neither Generalissimo
Chiang Kai-shek nor President Quirino of the Philippines have consulted him about their proposal for such an alliance to stop the spread of communism in the Far East.

The cabinet officer said that his position remains the same as it was on May 18 when he declared that no Pacific pact is under consideration although the United States is sympathetic to all regional arrangements of friendly powers for their self defense.

Rain Brings First Break In Drought
In Northeast U. S.

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)— A light rainfall that totaled an official four-fifths of an inch in the past 24 hours brought the first real break today in the 52-day northeastern drought.

And more and heavier rain is forecast starting late tonight and continuing tomorrow.

The light but welcome rain gave new heart to farmers in southern New York, northern New Jersey and southern New England who have seen their early crops withered by the virtually unprecedented dry spell.

Damage to crops in the dry area already has been estimated at above $50,000,000, with more millions of dollars in losses in prospect unless the next week or so brings at least two or three inches of rain.

INDUSTRY REJECTS
TRUMAN PROPOSAL

By TROY GORDON
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.
—The CIO-United Steel workers' executive board today unanimously accepted President Truman's request for a 60-day extension of the union's current wage contract.

The board recommended approval of the plan by the wage-policy committee this afternoon.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and USW, said that when the policy committee acts this afternoon, their answer will be officially transmitted to the president.

Murray refused to comment on U. S. Steel's rejection of the president's plan this morning, but added he might have something to say about that this afternoon.

Asks 60 Day Truce
The president asked both the union and the industry yesterday to call a truce for 60 days past the July 16 deadline to enable a fact-finding board to look into the deadlock in steel negotiations.

U. S. Steel rejected the plan charging it was an attempt to circumvent the Taft-Hartley law, and Republic and Bethlehem Steel followed suit. Only Jones & Laughlin Steel accepted the idea.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube
Co. answered the president this morning that it would agree to continue operations beyond July 16 to any date set by the president or till expiration of the two-year contract, only on the grounds that it will not be bound by the recommendations of the fact-finding board.

steel industry diminished today with the revelation that the United States Steel Corporation

In response to a query, a spokesman for "Big Steel" said the corporation has no intention of shutting down its plants despite rejection of Mr. Truman's proposal by U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless.

The spokesman explained U. S.
Steel's objection is to the ap-board to investigate the deadlocked wage negotiations.

poration will not be bound by any recommendations the three-

Explaining Program

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—
President Truman takes to the air tonight to explain to the people
"in simple language" his plan to keep business and employment at top levels.

The chief executive will begin his nationwide radio and television address at 10:30 p. m. (EDT) on all four networks.

Mr. Truman will tell the people at home his plans for bolstering the nation's sagging economy during what he has termed this "period of transition."

His "fireside" chat, the first he has made in many months, is expected to take about a half-hour.
It is expected to pursue "in simple language" the same 11-point anti-recession outline he gave to Congress Monday.

In the congressional message,
Mr. Truman scrapped his demand for a four billion dollar tax increase and said that prices generally should be cut without lowering wages.

Model Airplane Contest To Take Place Next Sunday

Plymouth Dealers Are Sponsoring Contest At Field Near Airport

Model airplane enthusiasts of this area will have opportunity to qualify for a trip to Detroit, Mich., during the annual model plane contest to be conducted in the county on Sunday, July 17, at Emery field, adjacent to the Wilson Aviation site of the New Castle airport on the old Youngstown road. The contest again this year, is sponsored by local Plymouth dealers, with Warren Morgan named as the local chairman for the event.

Some New Castle and Lawrence County model plane enthusiasts will win a trip to Detroit, Mich., at the invitation of the Plymouth Motor Corporation to participate in the third international contest there, from August 22 to 29.

In addition to trying for the trip to Detroit, 18 trophies and other prizes are to be awarded to Sunday's winners. The contest is open to model builders of all ages. The contest is designed to encourage and develop engineering and mechanical skills among air-minded youngsters.

Serving with Mr. Morgan on the committee are Merle Birney, of Chambers Motor company, and Doyle Birney of J. R. Rick Motor company.

airliner plowed into the Ghatkopar hills during a driving monsoon rain, was postponed until tomorrow.

A total of 45 persons—34 passengers and 11 crewmen—died in the accident. The 14 Americans included Lynn Mahan, publicity man who worked with the Dutch government in sponsoring the newsmen's tour of Indonesia. The dead also included H. R. Knickerbocker, veteran foreign correspondent and WOR radio commentator, and Miss Elsie Dick of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Knickerbocker and Heath were Pulitzer Prize winners.

Beyond Recognition

Most of the bodies were burnt and mangled beyond recognition. Despite the heavy downpour the wreckage lay undisturbed for an hour and a half after disintegration and plunging to the ground.

Two members of the American party which left New York June 13 did not take the fatal trip. They were Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of the New York Herald Tribune, who is now in Hongkong, and William R. Matthews of the Arizona Star who dropped off at Singapore.

The London Evening News quoted Matthews as saying that Mrs. Brandon did not make the last trip because she was convinced the plane would be "sabotaged as sure as your life."

(This was apparently a reference to the belief that Indonesian Nationalists might tamper with the plane because of a feeling that the Netherlands-sponsored trip might have influenced the journalists.)

Appearance Of Supreme Court Justices Assailed

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—Rep. Smith (R) Wis., today criticized the appearance of Supreme Court Justices Frankfurter and Reed as character witnesses for Alger Hiss in his recent trial as "undignified" and "against the public interest."

Smith declared that the action of the two jurists would disqualify them if the case ever reaches the supreme court. He introduced legislation which would prevent the subpoenaing of justices in any court action.

The Wisconsin congressman said: "Appearances by judges of our federal courts in any litigation is, in my opinion, against the public interest. Further, it is beneath the dignity of these courts."

His legislation would not prohibit voluntary appearances by justices in courts as witnesses, however.

Smithfield porters this morning handled meat unloaded by regular non-striking dockers. Spokesmen said the showdown would come tomorrow when meat taken off the ships by the soldiers arrived.

Government sources indicated that soldiers might take over the Smithfield plant if the refrigerating system broken down and a large part of the nation's food supply was menaced.

Several hundred bargemen and tugmen, whose small craft are vital to the port's operations joined the dock walkout last night, and the bargemen and tugmen's union is expected to ask its 3,800 members not to work at any point where troops are employed.

COUNTY PREPARES FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NEW ROUTE 422

The state believes the county should pay one fourth of the damages. In other years the county was responsible for all highway damages.

On the vote, Commissioners Harvey B. Bush and Joseph W. Gilmore voted yes and Commissioner Joseph F. Travers voted no. Explaining his vote Mr. Travers said "I believe this is too much for the county to pay."

It was pointed out that the county will get a three million dollar highway improvement and will pay only one fourth of the damages but Travers refused to change his vote.

union's acceptance of the White House request for a 60-day postponement of Saturday's scheduled walkout will be transmitted to Mr. Truman after its ratification by the union's 170-member wage-policy committee.

Such ratification was scheduled for this afternoon as a routine formality. Murray declined comment on the action of three steel companies in rejecting the president's peace plan and the White House also was silent on this development.

May Take Action Today

However, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said Mr. Truman may take further action today. It was anticipated that the chief executive would announce the members of the three-man fact-finding board he is appointing to investigate the steel wage dispute.

The president asked the union and six major companies to continue operations for two months while a special fact-finding board investigate their wage contract dispute and recommends settlement terms.

The U. S. Steel Corp., Republic and Bethlehem immediately rejected Mr. Truman's proposal in that order. They said it evaded the Taft-Hartley law which does not authorize boards of inquiry to make recommendations in labor controversies.

At the same time, it was learned that another major producer, Ben Morel, president of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., wired the White House his acceptance of the president's peace plan and expressed willingness to cooperate.

Two other companies did not immediately respond. They are Wheeling Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

If the union agrees to the proposal, Mr. Truman is expected to immediately announce the three members of the fact-finding panel and instruct them to proceed with hearings in the steel wage dispute. He already has set a 45-day deadline for the board's report.

Group Of '93ers Meet In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 13.—(INS)—It's been 56 years since "Little Egypt" shimmered and shook at the Columbian exposition but to the men of '93 she's got the present-day strippers and interpretive dancers beat all hollow.

Those elderly members of "Bald Head's Row" gathered yesterday in Chicago's Jackson Park, scene of the exposition, for a meeting of the association of '93ers.

And they spent most of the time talking about the famous hoochy-koochy dancer who died in 1937.

There were a few women along who dismissed "Little Egypt's" work as trash but the outing was a success nonetheless.

When talk ran low, the '93ers ran through the same old songs, and wound up their day pinning a tail on a donkey.

Stephen W. Wheale

Stephen W. Wheale, aged 72 years, of 918 Morton street, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Ramsey, Tuesday evening at 7:20 o'clock. He had been ill for five months.

Mr. Wheale was born in Clydesdale, Lanarkshire, Scotland, October 14, 1876, son of David and Eliza Matilda Cartwright Wheale. He resided here for two years and was a retired roller in the hot mill at J. & L. Alquiappa. Mr. Wheale is a member of the J. & L. Veterans Association. His wife was the former Margaret Ann Lioy.

Surviving are his children: Mrs. Chris Nielsen, Kittanning, Pa.; Mrs. Phyllis Koch, Lorraine, O.; Mrs. David Henry, of Beaver, Pa.; and Mrs. Lawrence Ramsey of this city. He leaves a brother, David Wheale, of Minneapolis, Minn., and sister, Mrs. Thomas Mann, of McKeesport, Pa.; nine grandchildren; and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p. m., from the family residence, Rev. Paul Graham to be in charge. Burial will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The body will be taken home from the Leyde mortuary late this afternoon, after which friends may call.

Mrs. Catherine Sesko (Szesko)

Mrs. Catherine Sesko (Szesko) aged 53 years, of 422 Elizabeth street, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital, this morning at 6:30 o'clock, following several weeks of illness.

Mrs. Sesko was born in Poland, March 1896. She lived in New Castle for 35 years, and was a member of the Watch Tower Bible class.

Surviving are two daughters: Mrs. Mary Phillips of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Stella Kardish of New Castle; and a brother, Nick Sabik, of Mahoningtown.

Her husband, Constant Szesko, preceded her in death two years ago.

The body is at the Noga funeral home, South Mill at Reynolds, where the family will receive friends from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening, and Thursday and Friday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow, pending the arrival of the daughter from California.

Mrs. Nelson Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. M. Edythe Nelson, of R. D. 4, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m., at the Leyde mortuary, Rev. Hugh G. Snodgrass in charge.

Burial was in Oak Park cemetery. Pallbearers were: Lee Jackson, Gordon Jackson, David Kramer, Ralph Reed, Archie Glidden and Earl Albion.

Frank J. Moore

Frank J. Moore, aged 83 years, died Tuesday at 1:55 p. m., at the Lawrence County Home.

He was born January 1, 1866, at New Bedford. All of his life was spent in this community. A farmer by occupation, Mr. Moore formerly lived in Mahoning township.

He leaves no known relatives. The body has been removed to the W. S. Caskey funeral home, West Madison avenue. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Ripple Funeral

Funeral services for Scott Ripple of New Castle, R. D. 2 were conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the R. L. Boyd funeral home with Dr. R. M. Patterson of Central Presbyterian church officiating.

Earl Reynolds, Benjamin Fitzpatrick, Herman Byler, Frank Neal, Thomas Sweet and Leslie Whitting served as pallbearers. Burial took place in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Sheehy Funeral Time

Funeral services for Mrs. Phomia Sheehy of Vanport, Pa., will be held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 p. m., in the St. Elias Syrian Orthodox church, with Rev. Elias John in charge.

Friends may call at the John R. Bigler funeral home, 1018 South Mill street, this evening 7 to 9 o'clock.

shoved against the controls, sending the huge airliner crashing into the rocky slopes of Chatsworth Peak.

Shortly before the fatal crash, Pilot Roy White of Wilmington, Cal., radioed Burbank airport and advised officials of trouble aboard. He said over his microphone: "Two men have been fighting. One is badly beaten and they threaten to continue the fight on the ground. Please have the police there when we land."

Capt. White received permission to land his plane at Burbank rather than at Long Beach, its original destination.

The huge airliner crashed with terrific force into the mountain, then smashed across the rocky slope some 100 yards, flinging bodies against the rocks before it came to a halt.

The dying and the injured crawled from the burning debris as the first rescuers reached the dirt road some 300 feet below the wreckage. Five persons, one a young woman whose foot had been torn off, reached the road and told rescuers of the horror of the crash.

Most of the crash victims were burned and dismembered beyond recognition.

The plane struck with such force that some bodies were found still strapped in their seats, yards from the smoldering wreckage.

A corps of hastily-summoned ambulances from the San Fernando Valley region took the victims to hospitals in half a dozen cities.

Aiding in the rescue work were 300 armed and robed followers of the Krishna Vanta religious colony whose retreat is near the crash scene. The barefoot disciples acted as stretcher carriers down the mountainside.

Among the survivors was radio and screen actress Karen Marsh, familiar to thousands of G.I.'s as the "Pickup Girl" in an army training film. Miss Marsh, enroute to Hollywood from New York for a screen assignment, was reported in serious condition at Cedars of Lebanon hospital.

Standard Airlines officials withheld comment on the tragedy. Last month the Civil Aeronautics Board ordered the company to cease operations as of July 20 on the grounds that the nonscheduled company disregarded regulations by offering regular transcontinental plane service.

The company, with headquarters in Long Beach, had sought a stay until its appeal had been heard by the U. S. court of appeals in Washington.

Amendments To Atlantic Pact Are Denounced

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—Sen. Hendrickson (R) N. J., warned the senate in effect today that it would prolong the "cold war" between Russia and the United States if it approves amendments to the North Atlantic pact.

Hendrickson, in a speech announcing he will vote for the twelve-nation alliance, said that if the pact is rimmed by reservations, "we shall encourage the potential aggressor to believe we are so uncertain an element he can pick off the democracies of Europe one by one."

Earlier, Sen. Cain (R) Wash., hitherto counted as in the "doubt" camp, announced that he will vote for the treaty.

Debate on the alliance picked up momentum in the wake of a clash Tuesday between Sens. Dulles (R) N. Y., and Taft (R) Ohio, on whether the pact binds the United States to arm Europe.

BRITISH OPEN CONFERENCE ON DOLLAR ISSUE

so-called sterling area, where the British pound is the basic currency—is how to meet the dollar shortage which is threatening Britain with an economic disaster. Two main lines of attack are expected to be discussed. The first envisions an increase in exports to the dollar areas so as to increase dollar earnings and secure a more favorable trade balance.

The second calls for an increase in inter-commonwealth trade which would reduce the sterling nations' dependence on dollar supplies.

Today's meeting is regarded as of an exploratory and fact-finding nature, with Cripps leading to outline the events leading up to Britain's present difficulties. The chancellor is expected to review his recent talks with U. S. Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, and stress that the commonwealth conference can produce only short-term measures.

BRIDE OF JULY 16 IS GIVEN SHOWER

Miss Agnes O'Connor, bride-elect of this coming Saturday, was honored on a recent evening at a lovely pre-nuptial shower given by Miss Pauline Oswald of Chicora, Pa.

The guests enjoyed dancing and a variety of games during the early part of the evening.

A delicious luncheon was then served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ella Oswald, Mrs. Eugene Blakely and Mrs. Joseph Bandura. At the close of the evening, Miss O'Connor was ushered to a table which held a large umbrella under which were many lovely and useful gifts of a miscellaneous nature for her future home.

Miss O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. O'Connor of Reynolds Street, will become the bride of Carl M. Oswald of Chicora, Pa., at an open church ceremony which will take place in St. Mary's church on Saturday, July 16, at 10 a. m. Rev. Fr. James P. O'Connor, brother of the bride-elect, will officiate at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Rhodes Class Picnic

Mrs. Rhodes Bible class of the Central Presbyterian church had a picnic at Cascade Park Tuesday evening.

Reds lost to the Blues in a Sunday school attendance contest and treated the Blues to the picnic.

Contests and games featured the evening's entertainment after the 6:30 dinner. There were 27 present.

Committee in charge of the picnic was composed of Mrs. Clarence Aiken, Mrs. Raymond George, Mrs. William Joyce and Mrs. John McGuire.

Another picnic will be held at the park August 2, with Mrs. Bertha Montgomery in charge.

KENNETH W. MOSS WED AT UNITYVILLE

At the Evangelistic United Brethren church, Unityville, Miss Jean Louise Stair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clive W. Stair, of Benton, R. D. 3, became the bride of Kenneth Warren Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moss, 702 West Clayton street, this city, on Saturday, July 2, at noon.

Rev. George L. Miller, of Windsor, Pa., a former pastor, officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

Assisting was Rev. Baughman, the present pastor.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Olive Watts, sister of the bride, and H. Albert Moss, brother of the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served to about forty guests at the I. O. O. F. hall, by ladies of the church.

The groom is a veteran of world war 2, and was radio-man in the naval service for three years, in the Pacific. He is a graduate of New Castle high school, class of 1943. He is attending Penna. Military college, at Chester. The bride is attached to the clerical force in offices of Baldwin Locomotive company, at Eddystone. She is a graduate of high school.

The couple have taken up residence at Chester.

Magee Reunion

The annual reunion of the Magee family will be held on Saturday, July 16, at shelter No. 12, Ewing Park grove, Ellwood City. Dinner will be served at noon.

Chrysolite Club

Chrysolite club members will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. John DeSanti, of East Lutton street.

FOSTER OBSERVES SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Tuesday evening was the occasion for a festive evening when approximately 200 guests called at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, Walmo, to pay tribute to the couple on the event of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

"Open house" reception was held for friends and relatives from the hours of 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Dinner was served to members of the original bridal party at a beautifully arranged table on the lawn of the Foster residence. Members of the bridal party included Mr. and Mrs. E. Bartholomai, of Lodi, Ohio, Mrs. A. H. McFadden, Harold Gardner, of Warren, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott, of Bart Richards, of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Kerr of Le Roy, Ohio, were special guests at the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, parents of Mrs. Foster, celebrated their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary in April of this year.

Lois Rogers of Parkersburg, W. Va., also a member of the wedding party, was unable to attend.

During the evening, lunch was served buffet style on the lawn from a table graced with an anniversary cake, flanked with lovely bouquets of summer garden flowers.

Presiding at the tables were the Mesdames J. B. Waddington, Wilfred Thomas, Ray Rhodes, Arthur Gilchrist, William Margraf, Harvey Bush, William Stewart, Vern Dufford, Lena Allen, A. B. Fankhauser, and J. A. McNeill. Mrs. George Carpenter aided in registering the guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Foster, the former Eleanor Kerr, were married in the Methodist church at Le Roy, O., on July 12, 1924, with Dr. McBride officiating.

EAST BROOK CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

Young Married People of the Eastbrook Methodist church presented a "Luncheon at Sardi's" party on Friday, July 8, at the Eastbrook high school.

Tables were decorated with red, white, and blue summer flowers and dinner was eaten while the program was taking place.

"Double or Nothing" was conducted by W. R. Clement, and an acrobatic act was given by a New York team, Bill May and Darlene.

A musical reading was in charge of Archie Cubbison. Two numbers were presented by the "Patterson Quartet", with "Kentucky Babe" and "Four Leaf Clover" the selections. Pianist was Mrs. Olive McConaghy.

Door prizes were given to Mrs. Murphy of Highland Heights, Mrs. Hensen, and Thomas Brown.

LADIES OF CLUB TO PLAY AT GREENVILLE

Ladies of the New Castle Country Club have been invited to be guests of the Greenville Country Club at a golf tournament to be held Thursday. Those ladies planning to journey have made reservations with Mrs. William Horner.

For those ladies wishing to play at home there will be a tournament at the local club.

Ladies of the Meadville Country Club will be hostesses to the local club members on Friday for the invitational open day tournament.

Covert Reunion

The fourth annual reunion of the Covert families was held July 10, at Cascade Park. A picnic supper was served in the park grove to a large attendance. Games and the park amusements provided the pastime.

Little Sharron Louise Covert was the youngest member present. A business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, Thomas L. Covert; vice president, Charles J. Covert; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Covert; secretary, Mrs. J. Earl Covert.

The sports events were in charge of Mrs. Herbert Saxon, Jr. and Miss Shirley Saxon. Mrs. Charles Covert had charge of the coffee committee.

The members voted to have their next reunion in July of next year at Cascade Park.

NEWLYWEDS RETURN FROM WEDDING TRIP

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Picarri have returned from their wedding trip to Buffalo, New York, Niagara Falls, and Crystal Beach, Canada.

The young couple was married on July 4, 1949, at St. Vitus church before an altar embellished with fresh flowers and candelabra. Rev. Fr. Bertoline officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride, the former Clara Napadano, given in marriage by her father, Nick Napadano, was charming in a white satin gown, fashioned with a sheer off the shoulder effect trimmed in lace edged the long train of her gown.

She wore a fingertip veil which cascaded from a crown of pearls and beads. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, and she carried a prayer book with orchids and streamers of flowers.

Miss Gertrude Melchiorre, as the maid of honor, was attractively attired in an orchid marquisette gown with a sheer yoke edged with lace. Lace ruffles trimmed the back of the dress. She wore matching picture hat and gloves, and carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses.

Misses Florence Manes of Hillsville and Mary Ann Picarri were bridesmaids. They wore yellow and green taffeta gowns with sheer yokes and matching hats and gloves. Each carried a colonial bouquet of roses.

Anthony Crudell, cousin of the groom, served as best man, and ushers were Leo Picarri and Benny Jones.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast, and later a dinner, was served at the Union Calabro American Club, with the evening reception at the King Humbert Hall.

Mrs. Picarri is employed at the Authenreith's Store. Mr. Picarri is employed at West Pittsburg. The couple is now residing at 424 Galbreath avenue.

Pagley Reunion

Third annual reunion of the descendants of Louise and the late Rocco Pagley will meet at Ramblers Rest on Sunday, July 24.

The Misses Mary Jane and Alma Marshall, Judy Rozzi and Louise Pagley are in charge of the program. Transportation will be in charge of Rocco Pagley and Angelo Marshall.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

A new and determined bid by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to win the friendship and support of the western world was seen today in his proposal to seal off the southern portion of his frontier that borders on Greece.

His official explanation is a desire to protect the people of Serbian Macedonia from danger of involvement in view of the continuing war between the Royalist Greek army and communist guerrilla forces which has kept the border area in a state of turmoil for years.

Definite Gesture
Actually, however, the move has the appearance of being a definite gesture of friendliness to the western powers. Closing of the border would be designed to end criticism and charges that the guerrilla forces of Greece are being supplied and maintained from Yugoslavian soil.

The Greek government has insisted from the beginning that the incursion could have been killed off speedily if the rebels were not supported by Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

It has been charged that guns, bullets, planes, tanks and men have flowed steadily across the frontier with the knowledge and encouragement of the Soviet Union.

Its leaders emphasize that foreign intervention is conclusively proved by the natural poverty of the battle areas, which could not support any sizeable military force on their own for any length of time.

Back in the days before his break with the Cominform became final and complete, Tito joined with the Soviet Union, Albania and Bulgaria in denying the charges.

Opposed Communism
But he also opposed appointment of a United Nations Balkan commission, which would permit of information confirming foreign aid to the guerrillas and even spoke of the possibility that full-scale military encampments had been built on neighboring soil to furnish reinforcements to them.

Now it is quite obvious that Tito is anxious to prove his country's complete innocence.

The question of foreign aid to the Greek rebels is at the present time about the only barrier to a full evening agreement between Yugoslavia and the west.

Tito has paid compensation for the lives of five American airmen lost when their plane was shot down by Yugoslavian fire. He has silenced blistering criticism of the United States and Great Britain in the Yugoslavian press and has concluded a number of trade agreements vital to his own economy and helpful in building up friendship and cooperation.

No Healing Breach
And he has cut himself off from Moscow in a breach that seemingly allows no healing. His latest pronouncements make it clear he is determined to pin his economic destiny on the West while retaining in his homeland a fanatical ultra-nationalist brand of communism.

At one point in a major policy speech at the Italian port of defense, he identified Yugoslavia as a passive spectator to the Greek war but warned that Serbian-Macedonian would rise as a single man if the hostilities overflowed onto its soil.

Tito emphasized that all his dealings with the West will be made without any political commitments.

He did not elaborate. But he clearly meant that even though Yugoslavia does business with the West it will remain a communist dictatorship under his leadership.

Significantly, he renewed his demand for part of Southern Carinthia in Austria and insisted that

THE SCHOOLS
Washington is full of lobbies and just now one of the strongest; in Washington is that working for the enactment of the proposed bill providing for Three Hundred Million Dollars of federal funds to aid education in the various states.

A few months ago a man having the same name as another adviser of government affairs, gave a warning to which serious attention should be paid—just as serious attention was paid to this man's father who gave the League of Nations such a "black eye" and successfully kept the United States out of that League. He is Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Senator from Massachusetts and this is the warning he gave:

"There are strings attached to this bill—strings which are bound to lead to an increasing measure of federal control of education. The shadow of the federal inspector will be over every school in the land. What have we seen in Europe? Whenever a would-be dictator seeks to grasp power, he reaches for two offices—offices which exist in every European State. One is the Ministry of the Interior which controls the courts and police; the other is the Ministry of Education, which controls the schools and the thoughts of the young people."

"In this country, thank heaven, we have never had either of these two offices. A would-be dictator would have to subvert the governments of forty-eight states. That would be impossible, and therein lies the strength of our system."

Take control of education away from the states and give it to federal government and the wedge enters into our system.

Wouldn't that be a fine state of affairs—to have a political economy of Communism taught to the young people of America? And that is what would happen. I don't know of any easier way to get a dictator. We have had one. If there ever was a dictator, F. D. R. was a king among them.

Trieste would never be returned to Italy. This was his first personal comment on the status of the city since elections there some weeks ago gave the greatest majority to political parties favoring Trieste's return to Italy.

In any case, Tito has made his position clear. He is divorcing himself politically and economically from Moscow and he desperately needs machinery and industrial equipment from the West, he will not bargain to the extent of dropping what he considers just territorial demands.

His decision regarding Greece may prove to be a shrewd move. If he closes the border, he will cut the ground from beneath the gravest international complaint against him.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Before I go into my column proper I want to record an item from our local newspaper:

"A temporary agreement for the custody of their two-year-old daughter has been reached between Mrs. June Blossom Moon and her former husband, from whom she obtained a divorce for intolerable cruelty."

—June Blossom Moon and intolerable cruelty!
Paradoxical, isn't it?
Now to today's column.

"How can you write with your desk looking the way it does?" my wife asked me a little while ago.

Looking like what? I asked in astonishment. "Everything on my desk is just where and as I want it."

She left the room with a Mona Lisa smile, knowing full well that she had put something to think about into my head.

So I took an inventory of my desk.

A calendar with the April page still on it, although it is July.

A thermometer that is not thermometer.

A desk lamp without a bulb in it. I never write at night, so why have a bulb? But the lamp is decorative. Genuine imitation bronze.

Seven pipes, one with a broken stem.

One ashtray. A pencil sharpener.

A stapler (to staple the pages of this column together).

Three blotters.

A letter scale.

Four fountain pens. Eight pencils.

A letter opener. A pair of scissors. A magnifying glass.

A stack of newspapers, and about fifty unanswered letters.

A monthly bulletin from my broker, showing how much less money I have than I had last month.

Two folders with sundry papers and notes.

An extra pair of eyeglasses.

A box of clips and pins. A bottle of glue.

What's wrong about that? Look at your own desk. Is it any better?

I shall now go downstairs and inspect a couple of my wife's kitchen drawers. (Maybe not now; I'd better wait until she is out somewhere.)

If I remember correctly, her so-called "utility" drawers look something like a five-and-dime store after a holocaust has struck it.

Some editor or reader may now ask, "You call that a column? What has that balderdash got to do with 'Looking at Life'?"

A whole lot.

Joe Colgan, our druggist, remarked a couple of days ago that it isn't just medicines and soda fountains that make the money for drug stores.

It's the thousands and thousands of gadgets that people think they can't get along without.

And sometimes it seems to me that the human being itself is a gadget for Nature to play with a while and to throw away when she gets tired of it.

PORT OF FORGOTTEN MEN

There is a place called "The Port of Forgotten Men." Where the Flotsam and Jetsam of life, Is carried and left, to drift and decay. Perhaps wrecked by the storm-winds of strife.

In this Port there is many a derelict craft. Which, when launched was somebody's pride, But which scorned the guidance of the Pilot Divine, It was easier to drift with the tide.

And some tried to travel without Compass or Chart And some without a real Port of Call. Just drifting and hoping that some lucky day, They would make a safe land-fall.

It is hard to escape from this Port of Lost Men. For the WILL to escape is near gone. But the Pilot still wishes, to help us back home, From this Port, to the Heavenly Dawn.

If we call him aboard our poor battered craft, And accept him as master of all, He will guide us back home, so safely at last, No matter what storms may befall.

Washington Calling

Employment Insurance Problem

WASHINGTON, July 13.—What finally got into President Truman's economic report and the review of his council of economic advisers is merely a small part of the vast amount of material winnowed and sifted. There were those, for example, who wanted to press much harder on the need to sustain purchasing power in industrial areas where unemployment is greatest.

The view frequently expressed is that unemployment insurance is today of a volume and continuity to hold up the purchasing power of jobless workers. Thus a cushion of purchasing power is created which did not exist after 1929. This cushion will prevent a serious depression.

Assumption Challenged
In the long debate over the economic report that comfortable assumption was sharply challenged. The A. F. of L. supplied significant documentation to support the charge that in state after state the unemployment insurance system has been whittled down so that the jobless find it difficult to get benefits they thought they were entitled to get.

The president's report took account of this charge, but in a generalized way. In a brief discussion of social security the president declared:

"Under current economic conditions, it is urgent that the unemployment compensation system be broadened and liberalized. I recommend that the Congress strengthen our federal-state unemployment insurance system by establishing minimum benefit standards for all parts of the country, and by broadening coverage. These minimum standards should provide benefits for 26 weeks ranging up to $30 a week for

Iowa Case
In Iowa a man left his job to accept a better job. After 10 full weeks and two partial weeks of employment in the new job he was laid off for lack of work. Under the Iowa law a man has to have 12 full weeks of work in his last job before he is eligible for unemployment benefits and because this worker fell short of the requirements, through no fault of his own, by two full weeks he was denied benefits.

Twenty-two state legislatures have amended their employment insurance laws to include a phrase covering those who leave jobs voluntarily "without good cause attributable to the employer." Thousands are ruled ineligible for benefits under this provision if they have shifted jobs in the recent past.

In his report the president spoke of the need to amend state laws. But the likelihood of any immediate change in these laws is not much greater than the likelihood that Congress will comply with the president's request for changes in

TEARS
Why should tears so powerful be Is ever a mystery to me.

I can stand an angry word And pretend I hadn't heard; I can laugh away a sneer, But I cannot stand a tear.

It was so in years gone by When I saw my mother cry.

And my Nellie's tears to see Brought the bitterest pain to me.

Now with thinning hair and gray, Still I find it so today.

If the children start to cry, There is nothing I won't buy.

Let 'Em Have Elbow Room

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 13.—Senators have come in for a lot of spoofing since they moved into the tiny, stuffy chamber where the Supreme Court used to sit. There is no space here for arm-waving, aisle-pacing or desk-banging, and there are no overhead galleries from which the public can savor the oratory and watch the fascinating play of parliamentary maneuver. Many a vacation-hungry correspondent is saying that this cramming of senatorial style is a good thing, and that we'd get more work and less show-off if senators were always confined to these narrow, inhibitive quarters.

Missing Big Point
But I can't, I'm afraid, go along with this majority opinion of the press fraternity. I like oratory, and I like the battle of wits in which senators often engage to bring their pet measures to the fore under favorable circumstances. I suspect that we are missing a big point if we decri the publicity aspect of a good senatorial set-to. Such a fracas, I think, is like a stag play. There are three collaborating forces which make for good theater. There must be a lively script, a skillful cast and—not at all negligible—there must be a warm, appreciative audience. It takes all three.

Only last month we had the Labor Bill debate—the biggest and best performance of the session. Senator Pepper, probably the glibest word-smith in Congress, was at the peak of his form as he tried to put over the Administration Labor Bill by sheer windpower. Senator Taft, not at all dramatic but always forceful, was there to bat down the Pepper arguments, to expose them in their stark absurdity. I saw Senator Neely, resplendent in a bright green suit, dash to the aid of Pepper. Swart, emotional Senator Morse jumped up to bare his bleeding heart, and big common-sense Senator Aiken followed him to the floor by way of contrast. There were dozens of others who "rared" back to test their ideas and their debacles against the sounding wall of the galleries. It was a grand show.

Not All Debates Have Grandeur
Not all debates, of course, have grandeur. Some of them are pretty shoddy affairs, as was true in the States Rights filibuster early last spring. Others are completely, though often unintentionally, comic. There are senators who cannot lift their heads and voices to answer "present" or to vote "yes-no" without causing a little or suppressed belly-laugh from the public or press galleries. It would be unkind to name these men, and I shall not do so, but they are part of the big show and play their pretty roles in it.

The point is that audience-collaboration is an essential function of Democratic government, particularly Anglo-Saxon government. It is a great thing for the nation to be able to visualize the sartorial hulk of Senator Vandenberg as he rises to defend an international policy. It is just as good for the country, through the eye-witness account of press and radio, to picture Senator Langer as he lumbers about whacking desk-tops and fanning the breeze over the heads of scurrying page boys.

More Familiarity The Better
The more familiarity the better. I would wish that all 140 million Americans had seen Senator Lucas' famous Barrymore profile, Senator Wherry's windmill gestures when he takes the floor, the soft catlike tread of Senator Byrd going to his seat from which he seldom rises to make a speech, the way Senator Douglas rests his wounded fist in the opposite hand, the way Senator Brewster turns up his reddish jowls when he addresses men taller than himself, as most of his colleagues are.

All this, of course, is color—a thing quite apart from the dull rumble of legislative prose and arithmetic. But there is virtue in color, just as there is danger in drabness. We may see this danger operating today in Britain, the other great Anglo-Saxon Democracy. Attlee, Bevan, Cripps—we have only to recite these names together with those of Churchill, Eden, Halifax to get the point. Britain has not only gone socialist, Britain has gone unbecomingly dull and colorless. No wonder the people there are beginning to crack! Abdications, bombings, debts, invasion threats, even the presence of several million Yanks did not faze these heroic islanders. But if their jig is now up, I don't doubt that historians will write down lackluster politics as the final cause.

Let this not happen, I say, in America. Give us our galleries so that we can have living memories of the statesmen in their grandeur, hypocrisies, frivolities, vanities. Build them more stately mansions in that will produce better histrionics. Why not? American politics has never intended to operate in a vacuum, much less in a Senate chamber where there isn't room to swing a homestead sentence or a dead cat.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING CHILD TO DRESS SELF
To the tiny baby, clothes are a nuisance, as he must be cradled as they are put on or removed. Before he is a year of age he may evince annoyance and stiffen his arms, back and legs in resistance, requiring patience in the mother. But by the time the child is three or four his clothes may be a source of pride and pleasure to him, though they aren't always.

At a year of age the youngster may easily pull off his mitts, cap, shoes and socks but he may be two years old before he can remove all his clothes. The wise mother waits and lets the child take off as he shows interest in doing so. When he takes tremendous patience and the tired and busy mother doesn't always find it easy to be so patient. It is harder still for her to wait and let the little child gradually learn to put on more and more of his clothes. Nevertheless, the time she seems to lose she gains later with rich dividends. So, eager to do things and to help, the little child does not need so much to be urged to help in dressing as to be allowed to help. Not permitted to help when he is ready and eager, he may soon lose interest.

May Lose Interest
But if there comes a new baby, your older child even at three, four or five may lose interest in dressing himself and insist on your helping him or dressing him directly. This is when you may grow vexed at him and tell him what a baby he is. This is about the worst thing you can do. Instead, you should encourage and help him some, since he feels so keenly the loss of attention from you which the baby stole away from him. Even the only child, after he has gained considerable skill at self-dressing, may vary from day to day, sometimes begging you to dress him, or refusing wholly to dress himself or even help to do so. At such times you may be tempted to force him to dress himself, thus building up resistance in him and rendering him less ready in self-help later. The most dangerous times to his operation are when you feel hurried and fatigued or just out of sorts.

As you must know, learning to tell the right shoe from the left is difficult. Many children don't learn this until they are three or older. At two or three the child may show interest in lacing his shoes but he may have no practice some months before he can do it well. Few children under six can tie the laces tightly into a bow.

Because the child is two he likes to fumble with buttons and pull them out of their holes. It is fortunate if the buttons are very large and the holes roomy. He can operate zippers and open fasteners more easily. The manufacturers of children's clothing have gone far at making self-help by children at dressing and undressing much easier. Mothers who make the young child's clothes themselves should keep the child's self-reliance in mind.

Appropriate clothes for young children are sturdy, give freedom for action, allow for self-dressing, are suited to the temperature, are of proper weight and promote good posture. Dr. Elizabeth B. Harlock has a good chapter on "The Child and His Clothes" in her excellent new book, "Child Growth and Development."

What he was looking for were things that would identify the owner. He found 'em, too—a hospital card, a social security card, a check book and a license.

Urges Robeson Be Subpoenaed

Would Require Him To Explain Statements Concerning Loyalty Of Negroes

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—Rep. Walter (D) Pa., urged today that the House un-American Activities committee subpoena singer Paul Robeson and require him to explain his statements concerning Negro loyalty.

Walter's proposal came after baseball star Jackie Robinson postponed until next Monday his appearance before the committee to refute Robeson's assertion that U. S. Negroes would refuse to fight for America against Russia. The Pennsylvania advanced his suggestion following the testimony of a committee investigator that a rally welcoming Robeson home after the Negro singer's trip to Russia was "calculated to stir a rebellious spirit" among American Negroes.

Robeson reiterated at the rally, held in New York, his declaration that it would be "unthinkable" for U. S. Negroes to fight against the Soviet Union in the event of war.

Thirty-Three Are Hurt In Bus Crash

EASTON, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—Thirty-three persons were injured slightly today when a Greyhound bus enroute from Philadelphia to Scranton careened into a roadbank two miles north of Easton.

The injured were taken to Easton hospital and all were discharged later except Mrs. Claudia A. Thomas, 67, of Philadelphia. She was detained for treatment of head injuries and leg cuts.

Bus driver George W. Becht, 30, of Philadelphia, told State police rain obstructed his vision as the vehicle reached U. S. Route 115 from Bushkill drive at 12:15 a.m.

Will Hold Down Wheat Acreage

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department said today that acreage allotments will be ordered for the 1950 wheat crop, but proposals for marketing quotas have been abandoned. The department's move to hold down next year's wheat production was revealed in telegrams sent to its field offices throughout the wheat-producing states. Agriculture Department spokesman explained, however, that no formal order for the acreage allotments will be issued yet. The department said that a drop of 148 million bushel in 1950 wheat estimates was responsible for the decision to abandon marketing quota plans.

Sunbury Police Force Shaken Up

SUNBURY, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—Mayor Joseph B. Nesbit of Sunbury today announced a tightening of police efficiency by dismissal of one officer, suspension of another, two promotions and swearing in of four new policemen.

No official explanation was given for the dismissal and suspension but it was understood the actions were taken against the two patrolmen for neglect of duty.

Patrolman Arthur Quinn was promoted to assistant police chief and Patrolman Clifford Gass to sergeant. The four new men were picked from civil service lists, Nesbit said.

Search Made For Cattle Thieves

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—Johnstown district farmers were banding together in an effort to thwart cattle rustlers who have been active in the area. The latest victim of the night raiders, Eugene Hillegas, of R. D. 2, Johnstown, said thieves had made off with a 14-month old guernsey heifer. Six cattle have been reported stolen in the area in the last four weeks.

Man Who Escaped Lackawanna County Police On June 21,
Is Recaptured

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 13.—(INS)—Alphonse Dote, 45, of Rome, N. Y., who escaped from the custody of Lackawanna, Pa., county detectives on June 21, was seized during the night by state police and Rochester detectives in a Rochester home.

Police refused to divulge the identity of the occupants of the home, pending possible action against them.

A simultaneous raid was staged on a farm at East Bloomfield, 25 miles east of Rochester, where officials had been tipped Dote might be hiding.

Dote was wanted by Pennsylvania authorities on an escape charge. He fled while he was being taken from Scranton, Pa., to the Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia on a burglary sentence and since that time has eluded capture.

Dote is being held in custody of State Police of Troop A at Batavia, N. Y.

Farmer Pinned Under Tractor In Farm Creek

READING, Pa. July 13.—(INS)—A 73-year-old Stouchburg farmer today was in "fair" condition at Reading hospital after he was pinned in a creek by a one-ton tractor on his farm.

Frank Schwere was hauling water from a creek to a dried-up cistern. He left the tractor on a wooden bridge over the creek and operated a pump with the tractor's power. A belt slipped off and as Schwere attempted to readjust it, the tractor went into gear, drove him into the creek and rolled over on him.

Schwere managed to keep his nose above water till neighbors pried the vehicle off of him. He suffered a broken hip and possible internal injuries.

Mayor O'Dwyer To Run Again

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—Mayor William ("I Can't Be Drafted") O'Dwyer, his Irish up and his resistance lowered, prepared to announce today his candidacy for re-election as mayor of New York.

The mayor, informed sources said, told supporters last night that he will uncomplacently state his political situation by stating his candidacy later today. Previously, he had firmly refused to run, and had turned thumbs down on a number of draft movements.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 13.—Old P. T. Barnum must be beaming benignly today in some faraway Valhalla because the cult he founded is not dead.

And if the kind of citizens residing in six New England states and upper New York are not now cognizant of a movie called "Mighty Joe Young", then they must be reposing in some happy hunting ground themselves.

The largest screen premiere since T. Edison concocted his magic lantern is being staged in 268 New England towns this week and the vanguard of ballyhoo would turn even Brother Barnum wan with jealousy.

Gorilla Makes Good
"Mighty Joe Young" has to do with an African gorilla of the same name who is bodyguard for a cute gal. He hies to the U. S. and becomes a nightclub entertainer among other things, including a prize fighter who whips Primo Carnera. Only reason "Mighty Joe Young" didn't make the Notre Dame football team was that his tourist visa expired.

At any rate "Mighty Joe Young" is the danglest flicker to emanate from Movietown in 50 fortnights and the fanfare ushering it into northeastern theatres is fit and proper for an epic of its caliber.

The film was manufactured by John Ford and Merian Cooper and directed by Ernst B. Schoedack, the self-same trio that turned out "King Kong" some 15 years ago.

Good Ballyhoo
A later-day Barnum named Terry Turner is the No. 1 brain behind the avalanche of advance ballyhoo. Terrance is no neophyte in matters of this sort, having been banging around the promotional dodge for eons. It was he who introduced the original Siamese twins, for example.

Turner has had four giant trailer trucks roaring up and down the New England countryside and whipping in and out of the 238 towns where "Mighty Joe Young" will be shown.

Each truck harbors a 15-foot gorilla that grunts and groans like a convention of wrestlers and holering "It's alive!" A guy dressed in a gorilla suit has been apprehended by gendarmes 14 times to date and has coughed up a sum total of $200 in fines.

In the town of Biddeford, Me., Judge William Lausier, who also happens to own a theater, fined the gorilla man $27 and evicted him from the city confines.

Real Spectacle
Turner and his regiment of high-pressured press agents have passed out 15,000 king-sized balloons with the picture of Joe emblazoned thereon. You can scarcely discern the verdant New England countryside for 58,387 posters and billboards plastered around and about. They also have distributed nearly 1,000,000 giant circus heralds.

When "Mighty Joe Young" opens in Boston a gorilla man will swing paw-over-paw along a steel cable suspended across a street 200 feet into the ozone to the RKO Memorial theater from whence he will disappear into the Massachusetts mist while newsreels record the feat for posterity—and the mutual benefit of "Mighty-Joe".

HURT IN FALL
Rosemarie Gordon, seven years old, of the Margaret Henry Home fell on a broken milk bottle and suffered lacerations of the left arm and right hand Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. She was treated at the New Castle hospital and later discharged.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—"Open wider, please," I said to Miss Mary McCarty, the singing comedienne.

The words were scarcely out of my mouth until Miss McCarty's was open.

I took a good, long look at Miss McCarty's very nice set of chompers.

"I don't see no diamonds," I reported in some disappointment.

"I have not got diamonds in my teeth," was the somewhat testy reply of the young lady who will play a singing, hoofing newspaper reporter in the Irving Berlin-Robert Sherwood musical, "Miss Liberty," when it opens at the Imperial Theatre Friday night.

"Well, it says right here in this Broadway column that you have just spent $5,000 to get your teeth prettied up," I said, shaking the paper under her Irish snub nose, "and if you didn't get diamonds for that, much dough, you wuz robbed."

"Cross I Bear," an engaging girl with soft brown eyes, sighed.

"That is the cross I bear," she said. "Just because all I want is my two front teeth, and have expended a small sum in having them shored up, it gets in the papers I have had my molars replaced with kohlers."

"On opening night, I have a good mind to go right down front and bare my teeth at the audience, so it can see that all I have is just standard dental equipment."

This might not be a bad idea, as Miss McCarty's teeth are now as famous on Broadway as Mrs. Murphy's chowder. Three years ago when she was trying to keep body and breath together by singing in a California night club, a microphone flew up and bit the girl. It almost knocked her loose from those two front teeth (uppers).

Money was not as easy to come by then as it was thirty months later, after Miss McCarty became an overnight Broadway sensation in a revue "Small Wonder" that opened here nine months ago.

Her extraordinary success in "Small Wonder" led to the offer of a starring role in "Miss Liberty" and a little financial leeway with which to get those two loose teeth cemented in good and tight, together with other odds and ends of dental work.

It all adds up to the painful fact that while rehearsing like a dog in the mid-summer heat for "Miss Liberty," the little McCarty girl has spent all her spare time curled up in a dentist chair with a no-good drill.

Does Things Hard Way

But Miss McCarty is used to doing things the hard way. She is of French, Irish and American Indian ancestry. She stems in part from the Osage tribe, the richest Indians in the world, owning, as they do, much of the best oil land in Oklahoma.

"But there was one poor Osage," she said in the Fifth avenue office of the Playwrights Producing Company, "and the McCarty's got her."

From the time she was five until she outgrew the role, she toiled in the Hollywood salt mines, always playing the ornery brat in pictures in which butter wouldn't melt in the rosebud mouth of Miss Shirley Temple or other angelic moppets.

Then she sang in night clubs to keep herself and her mother in coffee and cakes, until one bright night last autumn when Broadway fell on her.

Now, she is happy as a clam at high tide playing a reporter on "The Police Gazette" in "Miss Liberty." She has always longed to be a cover girl. And now, by golly, she's going to be one.

North Street Has Reading Contest

Pupils Read Books During Summer; Awards To Be Given In Fall Assembly

Great interest is being shown by pupils of North Street School in their Summer Reading Club at the Free Public Library.

Boys and girls of the 3rd, 4th, and 5th grades made booklets, and each book read this summer is being recorded in the booklets at the library.

Awards will be presented to the students at an Assembly program in the fall.

Joyce Sullivan, is leading the group having read 14 books. Grade 4-1 has the greatest number of students reading.

The program will continue through July and August according to Mrs. Walter McKee, Children's Librarian and boys and girls who have not started their booklets may still do so.

WASHINGTON CALLING

federal law to cope with the economic decline.

The president's advisers were keenly aware of the need to shore up purchasing power. They could see just ahead the looming threat of a strike in steel with its fear-some economic potentialities.

During the postwar boom the strikes that have occurred have been largely inflationary in their effect; they contributed to the scarcity of goods in a seller's market. But a strike in a basic industry such as steel would today in all likelihood have a deflationary influence. It was one of the big unknowns confronting those trying to chart the nation's economic course for the next six months.

State Warning Given Carnivals

HARRISBURG, July 13.—(INS)—

Pennsylvania's 1949 crop of itinerant carnivals had a warning Tuesday from local authorities and state police to keep their shows "above board."

State police at the request of Gettysburg authorities swooped down on a travelling carnival in the borough and arrested the operators of the show for gambling activities.

Col. C. M. Wilhelm, chief of the state police, said however "violations of gambling and girls shows at carnivals are not too pronounced as they once used to be."

He indicated local officials have cracked down hard and in most cases carnival operators stick to the rules.

Youths Leave For Camp Penn At Early Hour Today

Twenty-Six From County To Be Guests Of State For Two Weeks

Twenty-six Lawrence county youths left early this morning for Butler, on the first leg of their journey to Camp Penn, at Indian-town Gap Military Reservation, where they will spend two weeks as the guests of the state enjoying recreational and camping activities.

The bus, which took the boys to camp, left Butler at 7 a. m., but the boys were ordered to report by 6 a. m.

Most of those who are attending arranged their own transportation, and the station wagon of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, driven by Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive director, took those who were unable to arrange their own transportation.

The youths will join several thousand other youths from all sections of the state at this camp, and will return home on July 28.

Receives Word Of Father's Death

George D. Christoph, of 409 E. Wallace avenue, received word last evening of the death of his father, Joseph A. Christoph, aged 84 years, who passed away late Tuesday afternoon at his home in Erie, Pa.

Mr. Christoph was well known here, having formerly resided with his son. His wife preceded him in death in 1932.

In addition to the son George, who resides here, he leaves three other sons and a daughter, besides a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but the body has been removed to Hanley and Sons Funeral Home in Erie.

Should Set Up Bases In Alaska

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(INS)—Fergus Hoffman, staff correspondent for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, told Congress today that the United States must strengthen Alaska with permanent bases and men or "wilfully risk invasion."

Hoffman declared in a statement prepared for delivery before a Senate appropriations subcommittee that Alaska today is little more than "the most widespread collection of potential Pearl Harbors under the Stars and Stripes."

The newsmen, who were assigned to Alaska by the Hearst papers, called for funds to provide manpower, equipment and supplies to assure the maintenance in Alaska of a force "sufficient to repel any invader." He said:

"If war broke out tomorrow, the enemy well might occupy Point Barrow, Nome, Dutch Harbor and Kodiak while our military efforts were concentrated upon begging and borrowing enough mainland centers such as Anchorage and Fairbanks."

"Meanwhile, the enemy in well planned procedure could be launching Alaska-based planes against the industrial might of the Pacific Coast and the Middle West."

Delegates Are Named By Legion

Preparations Made To Attend
State Convention In Pittsburgh, In August

At the monthly meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion, held in the Legion home Tuesday evening delegates were named to attend the state convention in Pittsburgh next month.

In addition to the commander, the delegates elected were: Alfred G. Walker, Manning Weller, Gomer Emery, James Cooper, William C. Glitch and Thomas McCormick.

Plans were announced for two band concerts, which will be given by the post band in the near future.

The first of these will be on the lawn of the Legion Home, North Jefferson street, Monday evening, July 25, and the second, which will also be an open air event, will take place at Cascade Park Sunday afternoon, July 31.

Famed Mansion In Chicago Will Go

CHICAGO, July 13.—(INS)—The famous Potter Palmer mansion on Chicago's Lake Shore Drive is scheduled to be razed to make way for two 21-story apartment buildings.

Plans for the seven million dollar project were announced yesterday by a Chicago syndicate. Work is expected to begin late this summer if the Federal Housing Administration makes a loan commitment.

The mansion, erected in 1882, cost more than a million dollars. It was the hub of Chicago's social life in the late days of the 19th century.

The property contains about 100,000 square feet of land.

BOYS ARE WARNED ABOUT LOITERING

This morning, a group of boys residing in the Crawford avenue district, ranging in age from 15 to 18 years, were before Mayor John F. Haven, on the complaint that they have been loitering about the United Brethren church on Crawford avenue.

The boys were lectured by the mayor against using church property for a loafing place.

Appearance Of Jackie Robinson Will Come Later

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers' second baseman, said this morning that his appearance before the house un-American activities committee in Washington, scheduled for today, has been put off "until a later date."

Robinson, who played in yesterday's all-star game, had been scheduled to tell congress today that he and most other Negroes would fight any enemy of the United States, including Russia.

Due to "important personal business," Robinson said, he requested and was given a postponement of his appearance before the committee.

Need Dollar Permit In Fremont, Ohio If You Would Shave

FREMONT, O., July 13.—(INS)—Shaving without a one dollar permit will be forbidden in Fremont beginning Saturday.

The Bush Growers League, Inc., an organization set up in preparation for the city's centennial celebration July 31 to Aug. 6, will start its whisker-check Saturday to determine just who will be allowed to participate in centennial festivities.

A permit to continue shaving will be issued in exchange for a one dollar donation to the centennial fund, league officials have announced. They also have warned that violators of the "no beard" edict can expect to meet with any form of violence.

The project has the approval of city officials.

Seventy-Five Take Test For Drivers At Armory Tuesday

Only 41 Out Of 75 Applicants Make Grade During Examinations By State Police

Officers from the Butler barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police who examined potential drivers of motor vehicles in Pennsylvania reported that 34 of the 75 applicants at the Cunningham Armory failed on Tuesday and must retake the examination or must make new permits if it was their third failure. Only 41 were granted permission to operate a motor vehicle.

The examining officers lift the learners permits of those failing for the third time thus eliminating any further practice time by the future drivers. The officers have urged more practice driving before submitting to the examination. Many potential drivers have had eye sight and must wear glasses before permitted to take the test.

The tests will be given again next Tuesday at the Armory from the hours of 10 until 4 o'clock.

Those Who Passed

The following were granted driving privileges Tuesday:
Isaac Buntman, 1512 Hamilton street, Pates Tavern, 231 Fourth Street, Ellwood City.

Reuther Renamed Auto Workers Head

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 13.—(INS)—Fiery Walter Reuther, arch-foe of left-wingers, has been elected to a third term as president of the CIO-United Automobile Workers.

Reuther was re-elected yesterday by an overwhelming majority of delegates' votes at the UAW convention in Milwaukee.

Final unofficial tabulations gave the 41-year old labor official 6,080 votes to 672 for his opponent, Wilfred G. Grant of Detroit. Grant headed a left-wing slate.

Reuther's re-election set off a wild ovation at convention headquarters.

Other Reuther slate-members re-elected were Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, 35, and Vice-Presidents John W. Livingston, 40, and Richard Gosser, all of Detroit.

Church Seeking To Oust Pastor

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—(INS)—The board of trustees of the Sandusky Baptist church of North Side Pittsburgh went to court today to oust its pastor and regain control of its property and money.

The trustees charged the Rev. Peter E. Boyko with preaching a faith "contrary to the faith to which members of the church had long adhered." They said the pastor was attempting to exclude 75 long-time members.

Fifty-six parishioners were named with Boyko in the suit in common pleas court.

Police were called to the church last December to quiet a flare-up of the battling flock.

'HIPPO' IS 46

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—Peter the Great, most venerable member of the hog family at the Bronx zoo, attained a new world's record today—at 46, he is the oldest hippopotamus on record.

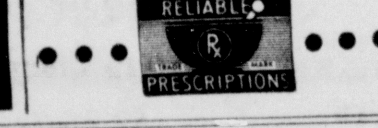

Lee S. Crandall, curator of the zoo, said that Pete eats a sort of hay gruel prepared by his keepers, these days, and that he is weak on his legs. But, when his over two-ton weight is buoyed by water, Pete seems happy enough.

A hippo's normal life expectancy is only 20 years. What kept Pete alive so long? Maybe hope—he still has never had a mate.

Yes, stop and think for a moment. What possession is more important, more indispensable than health? Why chance the loss of this treasure through neglect? PENNA. TOP FARM POULTRY STATE

HARRISBURG—Pennsylvania is now the No. 1 state in the United States in income from both chickens and eggs produced on farms.

In earning this distinction Pennsylvania farmers in 1948 produced more than three billion eggs with a cash income totaling $137,508,000 and sold 115,000,000 pounds of chicken worth $41,267,000, according to revised estimates of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service announced by State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst.

In taking first place in gross income, Pennsylvania eggs hit a total of $149,350,000. Chickens had a gross value of $48,194,000, making the total gross income for the poultry industry of the state $197,544,000, second only to the state's dairy industry which in 1948 grossed $301,207,000. Both poultry and dairy income figures are all-time

Pennsylvania now ranks second among all states in value of chickens on farms as of January 1, third in number of chickens raised during 1948, third in number of eggs produced in 1948, third in number of eggs produced in 1948, fourth in value of chickens inventoried on January 1, and seventh in number of trukeys raised last year.

National chicken and egg income titles were taken by Pennsylvania from Iowa which is still first in number of chickens and eggs produced.

The Keystone State stepped out in front by virtue of its eggs bringing higher prices in the near-by eastern markets, Secretary Horst explained.

Saints Cosmas and Damian were Arabian brothers who practiced as physicians in Cilicia in the third century, A. D. They were cast into the sea as Christians, but legend says they were rescued by an angel. After several methods of ending their lives had been tried in vain, they were beheaded in 303.

Go all through your house . . . watch electricity work!

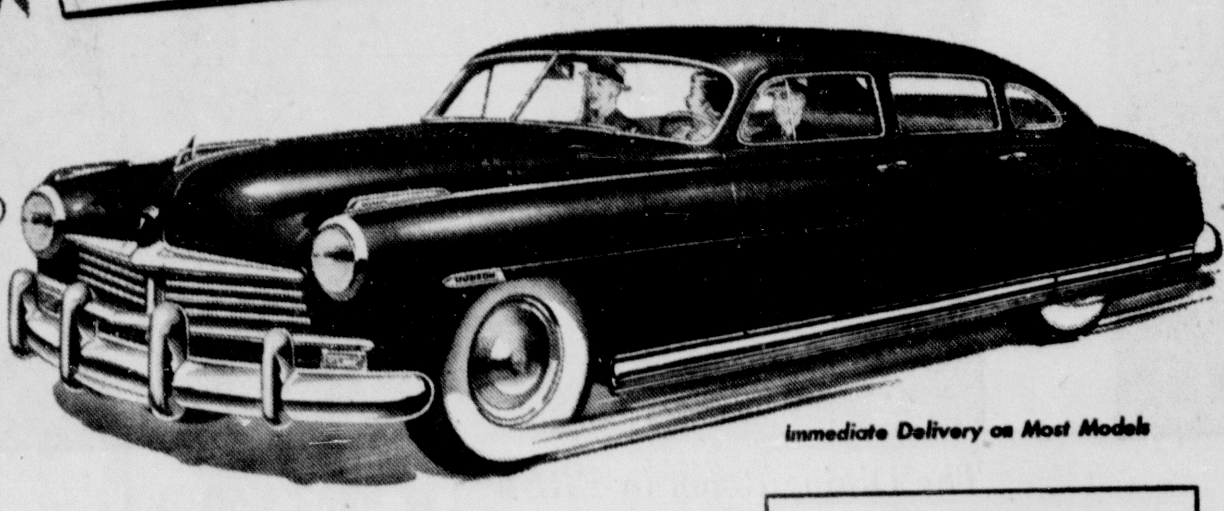

Ever count the number of jobs your electricity does for you? It preserves and prepares food—sews, cleans and washes—cools or warms—provides light and entertainment—saves you work, time, money every time you switch it on!

One of the biggest reasons for America's high standard of living is electric service—we use as much as all the rest of the world together. That's because American business has been free to develop electricity from a scientific curiosity to one of the nation's most valuable services.

Business men and business methods pioneered and developed your electric company—and made electricity low in price, high in usefulness, available at your finger tips. In spite of government encroachment, the business-managed electric companies—like your own—today supply 87% of America's electricity.

Tokyo Rose Counsel Depicts Defendant As Unsung Heroine

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—(INS)—A defense effort to depict Iva Toguri D'Aquino as an unsung U. S. heroine who made her wartime Japanese propaganda broadcasts a liability to her bosses was the feature today of her San Francisco treason trial.

Counsel for Los Angeles-born Mrs. D'Aquino, otherwise known as "Tokyo Rose," tried to implant in the minds of six men and six women jurors in Judge Michael J. Roche's San Francisco federal court the idea that radio Tokyo's program actually damaged Japan.

It endeavored to convey the impression that the 33-year-old Mrs. D'Aquino was not the "Tokyo Rose" whose seductive syllables were broadcast on the "zero hour" show—that, in fact, the phrase "Tokyo Rose" itself was only a nickname for every female voice GI's heard over the Japanese radio.

Neighbors Aid In Pruning Job

PINE GROVE, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—Reuben Augst's 1949 apple crop will be friendship-cured. The 70-year-old Schuylkill county orchardist tore a tendon while doing a job on his 40-acre apple orchard and is unable to do the necessary work on the trees. Eighteen of his neighbors, over-all clad, invaded his apple acre yesterday and began putting Transparent, Winesap, McIntosh and Golden Delicious apple trees into shape.

The friendship pruning job was the idea of John Goodman, superintendent of the Pine Grove Church Sunday school where Augst teaches the Bible class.

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSING

On Sunday evening the final program concluding two weeks of daily vacation Bible school was held in the Methodist church, to which parents and the public were invited.

The program included songs and verses used during the regular periods of the Vacation Church school, the awarding of certificates to those with perfect attendance.

There were 98 children, ages from 2 to 16 enrolled in classes during the two weeks with an average attendance of 85. Awards for perfect attendance were given to 54 pupils. Mrs. Adam Grell was in charge of the service, the invocation and pledge of allegiance to the American and Christian flags, by the group. The entire student body ages from 2 to 16 participated in the program, with the beginners, primary, junior and intermediate groups giving examples of their activities, under the direction of the teachers.

Rev. Merle Weaver, pastor of the Methodist church closed the service with prayer and the audience then viewed a nice display in the social rooms. The Bible school was in charge of the Junior Supt. Mrs. Adam Grell and assisted by Rev. Merle Weaver, Mrs. Paul Chintella, Mrs. Jo. ph. Aiello, Mrs. Robert Rice, Lewis Grell, Jean Ann Morgan and Delores Cox. Following the final session of the school on Friday morning, the pupils and teachers enjoyed a picnic at Buhl Park, Sharon.

TWELVE MORE TRACTORS THAN HORSES ON FARMS IN STATE

HARRISBURG. — Tractors at last outnumber horses on Pennsylvania farms, according to federal-state surveys, announced by the State Department of Agriculture.

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania agriculture "Old Dobbin" is in second place as a motive power unit in the production of farm products worth more than $800,000,000. The totals: 135,000 tractors, 130,000 horses.

In fairness to the equine world, Pennsylvania's 14,000 mules still give four-legged horsepower the upper hand in total numbers over machine-made farm power units, observers point out.

Horses were at their peak in Pennsylvania 60 years ago when they numbered 600,000, official records show. But there are many horse breeders and farmers who work on many Pennsylvania farms. The 1928-47 average was 234,000 head.

The 135,000 tractors estimate, made in a survey conducted last year and announced this week, shows an increase of approximately 45 per cent in number since the U. S. Agricultural Census of 1945. In that year 92,638 tractors were counted on farms of the state. It was virtually impossible to obtain new tractors during the war, but each year since then farmers have been getting them in record numbers.

There is still room for further mechanization of Pennsylvania agriculture, department officials say, according to the 1945 Census, making the state has 171,761 farms, the tractor average less than one per farm.

Earliest census reports on tractors showed approximately 5,700 on Pennsylvania farms in 1920. By 1925 there were nearly 19,800 and the number increased to 33,500 in 1930. The 1940 census showed slightly more than 54,800 tractors on farms.

Pennsylvania has more farm tractors than any other northeastern state. It leads such states as Missouri and Nebraska and is very close to Kansas. There are more tractors in the Keystone State than in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware combined.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

Lawyer Morris Ernst once was defending, in a New York court, Schnitzler's comparatively innocuous Casanova's Homecoming. Ernst offered to present, in support of his case, signed affidavits by various literary luminaries.

The judge said he'd be glad to see letters from Sinclair Lewis, Theodore Dreiser, H. L. Mencken and Heywood Brown. After Ernst had won the case, the judge told him, "I really didn't need those letters to reach a decision, but my son collects autographs."

Among the gambling stories is the one of the canny life-insurance salesman who sold a policy to a prospect that exhausted "complicated" by reducing his proposition to "wagering terms." "I've got one million dollars to your 20 thousand—50 to 1—that says you'll drop dead within the next 12 months," he challenged. "Why you—" exploded the prospect, and before he recovered his equilibrium, he had signed for a whopping policy.

REFUGEE FROM PARIS HEAT WAVE

A REFUGEE FROM EUROPE'S current heat wave, "Xsuroc" finds himself a comparatively cool spot in a hangar at La Guardia Field, N. Y., on his arrival by plane from Paris. The two-month-old boxer was sent to the U. S. by his master, Major R. W. Mullis of Lexington, Ky., who is stationed in the French capital with the U. S. Army. (International)

IN THE OPEN

The rifle song of the groundhog hunter is heard again in the land. From now on the countryman walks his favored wayside trails on Sunday, leaving the week-day woods and fields to the flying leaden pellets, as trigger happy nimble fingers blast away at anything that moves. Until snow flies the farmer in good woodchuck country takes his life in hand every time he goes for the coveys.

My latest brush with this careless gunner came while I was spending part of a sticky July afternoon in a heavily wooded ravine. I was perched on the steep bank, high above the tiny stream, minding my own business while waiting for whatever wildwood entertainment might come along.

Instead a bullet came whining close above my head, nipping off a solitary maple leaf which floated down almost into my lap.

Report of Rifle

The sharp report of the rifle came from well down the hollow, indicating that the chuck hunter had tried for a pig on the bank somewhere and had missed, to send the bullet on a lethal carry through the trees. I will be a long time forgetting another July day several years ago, in the big-stream bass country. I was hip deep in a wide pool, casting hellgrammites, when a hunter's bullet ripped into the water close beside me.

I carry no grudge against the groundhog hunter. They have as much right to their outdoor enjoyment as anyone else. But for the protection of the legion of good folk who love the woodland trails some system of screening is badly needed which will insure against those deadly guns getting into unstable hands.

The July white sales are in full swing throughout the countryside. Queen Ann's lace, daisy fleabane, tall meadow rue, white sweet clover, meadow daisy, yarrow—even the bindweed, have piled the roadside counters high with their white loveliness. Here and there a special bargain counter will display a whole carload of blossoms, arranged to catch the eye of every passing window shopper.

High Noon of Year

July is the high noon of the year in the timberlands. The sedate trees stand around in whispering companies, with an apparent quiet pride in their July perfection. The carpet of shade beneath these big fellows harbors great drifts of jewel weed—the "waterweed" said to be effective against poison ivy. In certain areas the goose grass throws its long fingers across the forest floor.

For the second straight year a pair of house wrens has raised a brood of youngsters in the open top of a pipe holding some grape wires beside the house. The inside diameter of this pipe is two and three-quarter inches, but apparently the wrens find room to spare down in that iron tube. I don't know how they anchor the nest to keep it from sliding to the bottom.

There's only one disadvantage. That pole is just outside our bedroom window, and that wren believes in early morning vocal exercises. When he first tunes up each year we delight in the bubbling music, but now that a second brood is being discussed, I must say that we could do without all the extra musical flourishes.

Safe from Prowlers

Since the nest is about ten inches down inside the pole the youngsters were quite safe from any prowlers, such as Henry, the sparrow hawk, who sat there and drooled for a good ten minutes one day. We wondered how Mrs. Wren got those kids up out of the pipe, and still don't know, but she

GARDEN NOTES

Late in the season, the tips of squash, pumpkin and cucumber vines can be pinched off to make the fruit ripen sooner.

Grass clipping serve as good mulching material, but they should not be piled on too thickly. Spread thinly so they can dry out without molding, then add another layer about a week later.

When planting a second or third crop in the same garden area it is important that the soil have adequate preparation just as it did in the spring for the first crop.

August is not too late for the planting kale, turnips and late spinach. All three of these crops are quite resistant to frost.

Summer squash loves its flavor and tenderness once it has become over-developed. It is best to use them before the flesh has become fibrous and the skin tough.

In August and September, plant mustard to give a supply of late fall greens.

Duff Denies Hike In Gas Tax Causes Decline In Revenue

HARRISBURG, June 13.—(INS)—A decline in revenue as a result of the penny hike in the state's gasoline tax June 1 was denied Tuesday by Gov. James H. Duff.

Tax collections reflecting gasoline consumption during the early days of June reportedly showed a marked drop compared with those of a year ago.

"It is impossible to state whether sales are off because of the tax increase," Duff said. "Oil companies have a month to report."

The state gasoline tax for the 1949-51 biennium was boosted from four to five cents a gallon June 1 to provide $20,000,000 more a year in additional revenue to finance the state's road improvement and construction program.

The chief executive pointed out that vehicular traffic on the Pennsylvania turnpike is considered as the "barometer" of gasoline consumption in the commonwealth.

During the first five days of July, turnpike volume was up 17.2 per cent for all types of vehicles, he said.

"This tremendous step-up has been brought about by vehicles other than trucks," the governor explained. "The turnpike can be considered a fair index of other business."

Oneida Castle, a community in Oneida county, New York, originally was the principal village of the Oneida Indians who chose the site because of its strategic position.

Fernandez Admits Killing Michigan Widow In February

Co-Defendant In Lonely Hearts Trial Startles Court With Admission

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—Raymond Martinez Fernandez, co-defendant in the "Lonely Hearts" murder trial, testified on the witness stand Tuesday that he shot and killed a 24-year-old widow in her Michigan home last February 26.

His admission, made casually, caused a gasp of astonishment in the crowded Bronx supreme courtroom of Justice Ferdinand Pecora. Even the judge stared in appar-

Only one other person in the room seemed unmoved—Mrs. Martha Jule Beck, 29, his 200-pound co-defendant. Sitting at the defense table, she permitted no emotion to cross her pudgy features.

Fernandez and Mrs. Beck, who were extradited to New York from Michigan, face the electric chair for the bludgeoning and strangulation murder last January 4 of Mrs. Janet J. Fay, 66-year-old Albany widow, in a house in Valley Stream, L. I.

The witness, without warning, was suddenly asked by Prosecutor Edward Robinson the question:

"Is it not a fact that on February 26, 1949, you shot and killed Mrs. Deliphene Downing in her home in Byron Center, Michigan?"

"That is true," replied Fernandez.

Local Plant Steelworkers Attending Institute Program At Penn State College

Fourth consecutive year of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, Summer Institute program is now in progress at Pennsylvania State college, State College, Pa.

The first week's session will be from July 10 to July 16 and will be conducted for any local union officer, committeeman or members.

Subjects dealing with collective bargaining, effective speech, health and welfare programs, industrial engineering and community relations, are occupying a full week's time for those in attendance.

Special classes will be held for former students with particular emphasis devoted to special needs and interests.

During the week, recreational sports and other activities will be offered to all members, affording them an opportunity to relax and forget plant problems for a while.

Those who are attending from New Castle include: from National Radiator company, Local 1284, Frank Clinefelter, Leo Gensante and Augustine Smarrelli; Shenango Pottery company, Local 3125, Andy Pascarella, George Hammond, Donald Brown, Robert Campbell and Vitis Bongivengo, and Metropolitan Brick company, Local 3043, William Chaney.

Future sessions of the Institute program will convene from July 17 to July 23; from July 24 to July 30, and the final session from July 31 to August 6.

Fifty High School
Boys Will Attend
Conservation Camp

STATE COLLEGE, July 13.—Fifty high school boys from northeastern and northwestern Pennsylvania will comprise the group which will attend the Junior Conservation Camp at Stone Valley, Huntingdon county, beginning tomorrow. This group, second of four, will remain until July 23.

The camp is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. Robert Cooper, president of the federation, says the aims of the camp are to give boys an appreciation of the wise use of our natural resources; to develop better human resources in having the boys outdoors in wholesome activities and hobbies; and to improve social resources by having the boys work together and adjust to group activities as a part of their training.

The Stone Valley Camp, built for the summer training of Penn State civil engineering students, consists of tents, each with facilities for four boys, and a central administration building and dining hall. Charles W. Stodart, extension director for the School of Physical Education and Athletics at Penn State, is state chairman for the camp while Charles Ridenour, also of Penn State faculty and an erstwhile athlete, is camp director.

Counties that will send boys to the camp beginning tomorrow are Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Lawrence, Butler, Clarion, Venango, Forest, Warren, Susquehanna, Wyoming, Luzerne, Wayne, Lackawanna, Pike, Monroe and Carbon.

Crop Production Estimates Down

Potatoes, Corn, Oats, Tobacco And Hay Hardest Hit In Driest June

HARRISBURG, July 13.—(INS)—The State Agriculture Department Tuesday said early estimates for 1949 crop production were pared down because of the June drought.

June, generally a wet month, this year was the driest on record. Hardest crops hit by the extended dry weather, the survey showed, were potatoes, corn, oats, tobacco and hay. Only some fruit crops were estimated at greater production than last year's production.

Production estimates, as of July 1, for 1949 were:
Corn, 62,640,000 bushels, $2,739,000 bushels below last year.
Potatoes, 15,450,000 pounds, 5,387,000 less than 1948.
Hay, 2,994,000 tons, about one half million tons under 1948.
Tobacco, 55,888,000 pounds, 5,387,000 less than last year.
Oats, 24,012,000 bushels, a drop of five million bushels from early June estimates.

Fruit crops in the state showed up better. Apple estimates showed an increase of about four million bushels from last year's crop to 8,250,000 bushels this year; cherry production jumped from the June 1 estimates of 8,000 tons to July 1 production of 10,800 tons.

Grapes were estimated at a crop of 15,900 tons, for a drop of 300 tons from last year, and peaches were estimated July 1 at 2,138,000 bushels, 44,000 under the June 1 forecast.

ADD PORK FOR FLAVOR
A little pork combined with other meat loaf ingredients adds a lot of flavor. Season with a bit of cloves, nutmeg, lemon juice and salt and pepper to make it even more savory.

Data Sought For Hunting Booklet

HARRISBURG.—Compilation of data for the 1949 edition of its annual booklet, "Hunting Accommodations in Pennsylvania," has been started by the State Department of Commerce Vacation and Recreation Bureau it was announced today.

The booklet, which has increased in interest and importance over the years, contains lists of hotels, inns, camps, boarding houses and other establishments where hunters may obtain accommodations, a digest of game laws, a list of the state game protectors and their addresses as well as other information of value and interest to hunters.

Establishments listed in last year's booklets will again receive questionnaires to be filled out and returned to the bureau giving the information desired for compilation in the booklet. Other establishments which have not previously been listed and which desire to accommodate hunters this season should send their names to the bureau and a questionnaire will be forwarded to them immediately.

Through cooperation of the State Game Commission game protectors will assist in gathering much information for the booklet, the bureau announced.

Material received after July 15 cannot be included.

MUSICAL ARTS TRIO WILL PLAY AT WESTMINSTER

Musical Arts Trio of this city, Anthony Casbero, violinist; Tom Wland, cellist, and Edna Lewis, pianist, will play at the chapel hour at Westminster college on Friday, July 15.

New Castle is proud of this fine ensemble and local music lovers remember with pleasure their superb performance as soloists with the Music Club chorus in its spring concert in May.

At Westminster they will be heard in works of Schumann, Brahms, Debussy and Haydn.

Land in cultivation in Peru is estimated at 3,617,000 acres, about 12 per cent of the total.

KILI THE CAT LOVES COCKTAILS

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—Kili, the alley-cat, has been prowling around with the international set for over a year now, and what's the result?

His owner, Mrs. Winifred Hunter, an assistant attaché of the U. S. Embassy in Madrid, cited these achievements:

"He bathes every Sunday, boxes with gloves, and understands both English and Spanish. And he just loves a cocktail now and then."

But, even as with uncultured alley-cats, a cocktail too many and "Kili gets wobbly—and sick."

IRONING WITH EASE GIVES BEST RESULTS

To keep summer clothing fresh and crisp looking, use the best ironing techniques and iron early in the day. Try doing some ironing two or three mornings a week rather than leaving it all for one time.

Try the following suggestions for easier and quicker ironing: sprinkle clothes evenly and fold pieces loosely. Allow them to stand until dampness has spread throughout the garments, preferably overnight.

Practice ironing with an unhurried, rhythmic motion to give the heat time to do the work. Constant pressing down on the iron is tiring if there is a large number of garments to be ironed. Always iron a garment dry to keep it from wrinkling and re-dampening adjoining parts of the garment. Ironing until dry may seem slow but it saves time in the end.

In ironing blouses, shirts, or dresses, first do the parts that can hang off the board, such as cuffs, collars, sleeves and belts, then do the body of the garment. Another suggestion is to iron with the weave of the material. Circular skirts and hems will not be stretched out of shape when fabric is ironed with the grain.

Start ironing seams on the wrong side of the garment so the outside has a smooth look. Turn garment right side out, reduce heat, and finish ironing. Avoid shine on dark cottons and rayons and on double thicknesses of pockets and collars by ironing first on wrong side, then use a light weight pressing cloth to finish on the right side.

The appearance of rayon garments is often improved with a second pressing after they hang for a while.

It is a good idea to iron carefully around buttons. Turn the button side down on a thick bath towel and iron over it. Avoid ironing the buttonhole side too heavily, it may sag.

Use a tailor's cushion if possible as a handy aid for ironing neck and shoulders.

MEALS IN A MINUTE OUT OF THE LOCKER

In just a few minutes you can whisk a meal together if there are some frozen precooked foods as well as meats, fruits and vegetables in your home freezer. Breads, rolls, pies, cakes, cookies, sauces and even main dishes may be frozen successfully.

Most precooked foods have a limited storage life and are better if used within a few weeks. Besides, it is not a wise use of freezer space to keep for long periods baked and precooked foods that can be easily prepared every few weeks. Save the bulk of storage space for fresh meats, fruits and vegetables.

It is a saving of time, fuel and energy to stagger big cooking operations, such as baking, by preparing enough food at one time for several weeks. It is convenient to freeze whole meals so they will be ready for special occasions or when you are away.

Precooked foods to be frozen should be freshly prepared of high quality ingredients, cooled quickly, packaged and frozen at once.

Pies may be frozen unbaked or after baking, right in the pie pan. Wrap tightly in cellophane or aluminum foil and protect in a suitable box or in stockinette. Cakes may be frozen before or after baking as desired. Butter cream or fudge frostings freeze better than the seven-minute type.

Meat pies, spaghetti sauce, chicken a la king, French fried potatoes and frozen fruit salad are other favorites for the home freezer.

Cellophane aluminum foil, or heavy lockpaper may be used for wrapping precooked foods for the home freezer.

RE-ENLISTS IN ARMY

John Norwood Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Gardner, Rosedale avenue, R. D. 3, New Castle, Pa., has re-enlisted in the U. S. Army for a period of three years.

John, who has had prior service with the Coast Guard during the period December 4, 1942, to March, 1946, participated in the Okinawa invasion.

John is a graduate of New Castle high school, and also attended Tri-State College.

Outlook Is Good For Peach Crop

HARRISBURG.—First estimates of the year by the State Department of Agriculture on the Pennsylvania peach crop were announced today at 2,166,000 bushels, or 16,000 less than last year's best-ter-than-average crop. The 1938-47 average was 1,920,000 bushels according to federal-state records.

A federal-state crop report as of June 1 also revealed that production of milk in Pennsylvania for the month of May was higher than for April but that egg production was down slightly.

May milk totaled 578,000,000 pounds compared with 513,000,000 in April and 545,000,000 pounds in May, 1948. Dairy cows continued to produce at record levels with January-May of this year reaching 2,411,000,000 pounds against 2,276,000,000 for the same period last year.

Egg production for May totaled 294,000,000 eggs compared with 312,000,000 in April and 307,000,000 in May, 1948. The output was slowed in May due to unfavorable weather conditions the latter half of the month.

The department also announced that the 1949 oats crop is estimated at 29,050,000 bushels against 29,146,000 last year the average of about 25,000,000. Initial estimates on barley are for a crop of 4,788,600 last year and the average of 3,568,000 bushels.

Initial estimates on pear production are for a crop of 330,000 bushels compared with 255,000 last year and the average of 379,000 bushels.

No estimates have been made on the 1949 apple crop. Conditions during May favored development of all fruits and on June 1 growth was more advanced than usual. Low temperatures late in the month delayed dropping of fruits and a heavy June drop is expected.

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive—what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all—what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything...

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, serice-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflow Drivetrain—and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

YMCA Camp Rentz
In Opening Week

All Campers Filled With 8-10 Year Old Campers; Have Campfire Program Monday

First week's activity at New Castle YMCA Camp Fred L. Rentz got under way Sunday with a group of 72 first-year campers on hand.

Eight boys and a regular counselor were assigned to each of the eight cabins at the organization meeting.

The cabin groups work as a unit while at camp and engage in activities according to the vote of the majority of the boys in that cabin.

Many Activities
Many different activities are offered to the youths. Among them are hiking, archery, softball, volleyball, handcraft, swimming, boating and campcraft.

A real rivalry in athletic events develops among the cabins during the week's stay at camp.

Three junior counselors are also in camp this week helping with the 8-10 year old campers. These are Dick Mattocks, John McKay and Joe Pazzak.

Monday night activity at camp consisted of a campfire ceremony. Each group marched to the scene of the fire led by a torch.

The fire there was a singing program and the usual ghost story.

Camp Roster
The following is a roster of first-week campers according to cabin and the counselor for each:

Cabin 1: Fred Rentz, Cabin-Counselor; Dick Burr, Paul Henry, Art Overhiser, Lawrence Henry, Tom Clark, Loyal Parady, DeWitt Morrow, Sam Pearson, Dick McCracken and Paul Pagley.

Cabin 2: Kate Rentz, Cabin-Counselor; Walter Jenkins, Reed Hoffmaster, Otto Pearson, Jr., Bruce Boston, Bob Hich, Freddy Fitch, Walter Lutz, Tom Younger, Jim McClellan and Jim Johnson.

Cabin 3: R. J. Tully, Cabin-Counselor; Jim Shira, Robbie Curtis, David Rosetti, Carl Northart, Jan Jordan, Wayne Russo, Bob Marsh, Bill Tobin and Bobby Dean.

Cabin 4: Jackie Gonick, Cabin-Counselor; David Lewis, Joe Swift, David Ryan, Jim Hasley, Russell Gormley, Curtis Drake, Bill Calvert, Francis Fazio and Bob Back.

Cabin 5: Jack Gerson, Cabin-Counselor; Phil Greenberg, David Wilkinson, Jim Donston, David Donston, Bill Basnew, Charles Christy, Gilman Smith, Tommy McGlinchey, LaVerne Bartlett and Dale Humphrey.

Cabin 6: Treadwell-Ray Cabin—Counselor, Dick Lewis, Renee Flannery, J. C. Cavill, Mark Slovinsky, Eddie Llewellyn, Bill Ross, George Wilson, Paul Brown, Bob Peterson and Jack Stewart.
Cabin 7: Director, Cabin-Counselor Randall Mooney, Tom Jones, Gerald Jackson, Chalmers Ross, Bobby Cowden, Joe McAdams, Duke Morawsky, Charles Seinkner, John Bender and Ross Curry.

Artillery Corps Highlights Day
At Indiantown Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—The 10th Corps Artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard Tuesday highlighted the training schedule on the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Brig. Gen. W. S. Bailey, of Harrisburg, corps commander, said the unit's shakedown training in the initial stages of the encampment "indicates that careful and thorough preparations had been made by all at their home armories."

Five thousand Pennsylvania guardsmen plus 2,000 from the Virginia National Guard will end two weeks training July 23.

Pennsylvania's 11th Regimental combat team and Virginia's 176th RGT are participating in the annual summer maneuver.

The 166th Field Artillery Battalion, part of the 11th RCT, completed an overnight bivouac Tuesday. The unit moved into the field Monday night and worked a problem involving reconnaissance, observation and firing position occupation. The 560th F. A. Battalion, attached to the 176th, participated in the problem.

The artillery's preparation will culminate next week in a "time on target" problem featuring mass firing on a single objective by all guns in corps including the batteries of the two combat units.

First Nisei Reports For Annapolis Duty

ANAPOLIS, Md., July 13.—Takeshi Yoshihara, 18-year-old Nisei, has reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Academy.

"It looks nice," he said after a survey of Bancroft hall dormitory, the historic yard and Tecumseh, Indian statue which has been a good-luck mascot to generations of midshipmen.

Yoshihara is the first Nisei ever to be appointed to Annapolis, academy officials believe.

He faces a stiff physical examination before qualifying to be sworn in as a midshipman today along with a score of other candidates. He said he was worried about his eye tests but thought he would make it all right.

Atomic Commission Lists Protections From A-Bomb Attack

Preparing Voluminous Set of Instructions On Protection And Treatment

By FRANK B. ALLEN
WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Atomic Energy Commission said Tuesday it is preparing a "voluminous" set of instructions on how to protect or treat inhabitants of American cities in case of an A-bomb attack.

The full volume will be secret, principally for military use.

But a smaller handbook, with secret data deleted, is planned. For it, AEC hopes to get the widest possible distribution, particularly among city, county and state officials, doctors, nurses and potential future civilian defense workers.

Also being considered are flying forces of highly-trained technicians with radiation-detecting equipment, located at various points throughout the country and ready to be rushed to the scene of an attack to direct the rescue work. Disclosure that AEC, working with military agencies, is pushing plans aimed at minimizing the effects of any future enemy's A-bombs came as Dr. Shields Warren told Congress what would happen to an American city if it were struck by even an out-dated Nagasaki-type bomb.

AEC pointed out that it must risk giving useful defense information to military officials of other nations in order to provide the information that America's city dwellers must have in the atomic age.

It is expected that whatever defense information is released to the public will be based on the effects of the older-type bombs. This is on the assumption that in the immediate future, at least, no other nation will catch up to the United States in the A-bomb's devastating qualities.

Dr. Warren, AEC's top authority on biology and medicine, told Congress that in an overhead bomb burst, "nearly everyone" not sheltered by concrete, earth, steel or lead protection and who is within a half mile from a point directly under the burst "will die."

Good Taste

ON TREATMENT OF SON'S WIFE

"My only son is about to marry and I want to do everything possible to establish cordial relations so that there will never be any estrangement between him and me. Can you give me any advice?"

Answer: First of all, forget that his wife is an in-law. That word, which I sometimes think should be banished from our language, conjures up suggestions which frequently put up an insurmountable barrier. Why should we feel any more restrained with out-in-laws than we do with our friends? Treat her as you would your own daughter, with this exception: Keep all unsolicited suggestions to yourself. Advice coming from a mother-in-law is often interpreted as unwanted interference or as a command. Never drop in, uninvited, to visit her for even an afternoon or an evening. If you would like to make a call, telephone first to ascertain if the moment will be propitious.

Regardless of her extravagance with your son's hard-earned, scanty salary, do not remind her of it. Let your son work out this problem with her. If you have household items that you would like to share with them, do so in such a way that she can gracefully decline if she does not want them. Be generous with your invitations to meals. Most brides find cooking a hardship and enjoy occasional relief from it.

When they have children, refrain from criticizing her "new-fangled" ideas about child-rearing, which is one of the sore spots with young mothers. They believe that it is imperative for junior to have his orange juice, mashed bananas and cereal at regular intervals, despite mother-in-law's stories of how she brought up six healthy children without the aid of such modern "fads."

Question: What kind of draperies if any, should be used on French doors between my living and dining room?

Answer: No draperies should be used on French doors between rooms—only on those leading out doors. Net glass curtains fastened to upper and lower rods are usually used.

Condensation Of Facts For 1948 Sent To All Parts Of World; Index Has 102 Pages

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Facts On File has come up with its eighth annual Yearbook, a tome that would make the Quiz Kids hearts beat with delight and sharpen the aversion of any giveaway prize aspirant.

But editor R. L. Lapica correctly points out its real purpose is to "benefit all men who want to read and know," by presenting as accurately as possible an unbiased record of man's activities.

Editor Lapica proudly declares in his foreword to this 428-page condensation of the facts of 1948—the index is 102 pages—that subscriptions to Facts On File's Yearbook have come from all over the world and from both sides of the Iron Curtain.

This handy guide to practically every worth-digging into event of the past year—memorable or just plain factual—goes to Parliaments, Kings and Foreign Ministers around the world.

The State Department sends it to 90 of its Information Libraries and Cultural Institutes abroad, the UN gets it, as does the Army, Navy and Air Force at their installations.

This new volume, in addition to the easy-to-find facts with back references, contains all sorts of interesting things.

Besides a special chronology, there are articles on The Trend in World Affairs, The Year's Ten Most Important News Stories, Business in 1948, Latin America, The Year in the Theater, The Literary Spotlight, The Year in Science, The Year in Hollywood, The Year in Sports, all written by experts.

Editor Lapica says the material in this new volume is composed of facts culled from 4,004 publications and its preparation called for the reading, clipping, checking, digesting, classification and indexing of 29,444 newspapers.

By unofficial estimates of Lapica the newspapers from which F. O. F.'s facts were gleaned would stack up to a height of 6,006 feet, which the fact-minded No. One condensation expert says is five times the height of the Empire State Building.

CATHOLIC DAY GROUP TO MEET

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"We've Never Lost a Father Yet."

The old joke in which the nurse in attempting to reassure a jittery prospective father says, "Take it easy, we've never lost a father yet," shows something of our attitude toward fathers and childbirth. There's a woman who "goes through" childbirth. Yet, for a moment, with deep family feeling, this experience of having to stand by and wait can be most difficult. He wants to be helpful, to take his share and yet there is so little he can do.

In an increasing number of instances, husbands are being permitted to be with their wives through much of their labor and sometimes even stay on in the delivery room. But whether this procedure is followed or not, prospective fathers deserve consideration. The emotional travail through which they often go may be even more upsetting than the actual process of childbirth is to their wives.

First Boys Arrive At New State Camp

Lawrence County Boys Among First To Start New Camp Program

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 13.—(INS)—The vanguard of 2650 teen aged boys selected for the Commonwealth's two week's summer camp began arriving today at Camp Penn on the edge of the Indian Gap military reservation. Approximately 480 boys will check in at a processing station beginning shortly after noon today. The balance will arrive tomorrow. The camp opens officially Friday.

Seventy-five counselors will escort campers from their homes to the camp. At least one counselor will meet each large group of boys at their "collecting point" to supervise the trip.

First arrivals today will be a contingent of 56 boys from Cameron, Clearfield, Bedford and Somerset counties. Delegations arriving tomorrow will be from Clinton, Centre, Armstrong, Indiana, Tioga, Bradford, Fayette, Greene, Washington, Elk, Clarion, Jefferson, Huntingdon, Blair, Forest, Venango, Lawrence, Butler, Crawford and Mercer counties.

At the same time, boys from Beaver, Allegheny, Westmoreland, Cambria, Erie, Warren, McKean and Potter counties will arrive by Pullman.

Campers from Philadelphia, Montgomery and Berks counties will arrive by train tomorrow with all others making the trip by bus.

Bob Jones Ensemble To Present Program

Bob Jones university musical ensemble, which is presenting a number of programs in this vicinity, will be held at the Darlington Reformed Presbyterian church on July 19 at 8 p. m., it has been announced. The group presents an unusual program with varied arrangements of the popular hymns. Special quartet numbers are presented. Herbert Hoover, a student at the university, directs the group while Eva Mae Folt is soloist and Ouida Hardy of Mississippi is pianist. The meeting is open to the public.

German War Bride Plunges To Death

Jumps To Death From Eighth Floor Of Downtown Pittsburgh Office Building

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—(INS)—A 23-year-old blonde who plunged to her death from the eighth floor of a downtown building in Pittsburgh was identified today as a German war bride who separated from her American husband four months ago.

Morgue attendants listed the victim as Mrs. Eva Renkes. Two friends identified the broken body. She died yesterday.

The friends said she had been despondent since separating from her husband, Charles Renkes, St. Clairsville, O. They said she had threatened suicide several times.

The German girl and the ex-GI were married in Oberlin, Germany, near her native Munich, while he was in the army. The cotner said the husband recently enlisted in the navy.

Mrs. Renkes came to Pittsburgh two months ago after working as a seamstress in Wheeling, W. Va. She had a similar job in Pittsburgh.

Friends said the petite blonde often longed for her native land.

American League Dominates All-Star Game 11 To 7

EBBETS FIELD—Dom DiMaggio (American league) slides safely into third, advancing from second on a long fly ball hit by Ted Williams to Andy Pafko (National league) in the sixth inning of the All-Star game on Tuesday. Sid Gordon (NL), covering third, waits for the late throw.

Highlights On All-Star Game

(By International News Service)

Managers Lou Boudreau and Billy Southworth, victor and loser of 1949's derby of errors, agreed today that Eddie Joost's "charmed" single past Gil Hodges in the fourth inning was the break of the game. "Those two runs scored on what should have been the third out and they put us ahead," said the Cleveland manager.

Southworth, forced to take second money for the second time by Boudreau, who beat him in the last World Series, echoed Lou's appraisal.

Ted Shines In Field

Ted Williams showed up in left's heaven (Ebbets Field) and made a hit as a fielder.

Held hitless by the National league's base hit charitable mound crew, the thumper made the fielding gem of the game.

His back-handed catch of Don Newcombe's base-loaded liner was a thing of beauty, matched only by Andy Pafko's shoe-stringer.

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—The records today will show these indisputable facts:

- (1) That the American league won its fourth straight all-star game in Brooklyn yesterday, 11 to 7;
- (2) That the Americans have won seven of the last eight games played between the two leagues;
- (3) That the Americans have won 12 of the 16 games played to date;
- (4) That the Nationals set a new all-star game record with five errors;
- (5) And that the two teams set a new all-star record with 18 runs scored.

The records also will show that the Americans made 13 hits to 11 for the Nationals; that the Nationals used seven pitchers to four for the Americans; and that Virgil Trucks got credit for the victory and Don Newcombe was tagged with the defeat.

Mize Lost Game

But the records definitely will not show that Johnny Mize, the lumbering first baseman of the Giants, actually caused the loss of the game.

Warren Spahn, the Braves' left-hander, started on the mound for the Nationals and started well by fanning Dom DiMaggio who played the outfield alongside of his brother Joe of the Yanks.

Then George Kell hit a bouncer to Eddie Kazak at third and Ed threw it to Mize on one bounce. The umpire called Kell out but changed his decision when Mize dropped the ball. For some strange reason, beyond our powers to discern, the official scorers charged Kazak with an error.

Then Spahn fanned Ted Williams for what should have been the third out. Ted was playing taped up with a busted rib, a tribute to his magnificent spirit and courage.

Four Unearned Runs

Along came Joe DiMaggio with a single, and Eddie Joost singled. Then Eddie Robinson drew a single on a ball that bounced past Mize but which a high school first baseman could have stuck in his hip pocket.

Peeewe Reese then weighed in with a boot and Birdie Tebbets singled and there were the Americans with four unearned runs when they should have had none.

A double by Jackie Robinson and a blast over the fence by Stan Musial off Mel Parnell cut that lead in half. The Nationals routed Parnell with a run in the second when Virgil Trucks came in to quell the uprising.

Nationals Take Lead

Three more hits in the third were good for two runs and put the Nationals out in front.

The Nationals looked like winners at this point but with Vern Bickford pitching the sixth the Americans again took the lead on a double by DiMaggio, D., a pass, and a double by DiMaggio, J.

They added three more in the seventh on four hits off Howie Pollett who took only his glove and a hope to the mound.

A pass and Ralph Kiner's homer off Lou Brissie were good for the last pair of National runs in the sixth. After that the Yankees' Vic Raschi came in to hold the Nationals to one hit.

Blackwell The Best

George Munger, Ewell Blackwell and Preacher Roe each pitched one hitless, scoreless inning. And the 32,577 who paid $79.225 into the players' pension fund to see the game, will vouch for the fact that Blackwell was by far the best pitcher on the field.

The pitching was ragged and the fielding surprisingly bad. The hitters, of course, had a field day. The fielding high lights were Ted Williams' leaping one-handed catch of a liner against the bleacher wall and Andy Pafko's tumbling, sliding, shoe-string grab of a short liner.

Summing it all up, the Nationals actually beat themselves.

CHRISTMAN SIGN WITH CARDINALS

CHICAGO, July 13.—(INS)—Pitcher Paul Christman, one of the National football league's greatest passers in seasons past, has signed his sixth contract with the western division Chicago Cardinals.

Christman, former Missouri all-American, signed his 1949 contract yesterday during a conference with club president Ray Bennisen.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Venerable Connie Mack's dream for "just one last pennant" apparent rides today upon the broad shoulders of young Alex Kellner, his southpaw rookie sensation.

The two veteran pitchers of the Nats took their "lumps" last night at Vandergriff as the New Castle team dropped both ends of a double bill to the Pioneers 9 to 3 and 9 to 4. Felix Bucchioni the loser in the seven-inning first game and Frank Wagner loser in the night-cap.

The Nats found the Vandergriff hurlers, Restic and Schmitt, for only 11 hits in the two games, while the "Griffs" had 21 hits off three New Castle hurlers. Cook relieved "Bucky" in the third inning of the first game.

The Nats kicked in with four errors again, Allen 2, Bilo and Gipp, in the two games.

Clouters Silenced

New Castle's Hammering Twins' Herm Kiel and Joe Karakul didn't knock any out of the park last night, in fact there were no homers at all. Kiel had two hits the second game and so did Mike Gipp.

In the first game Bilo, Torrey, Tufts and Bucchioni had the only hits allowed the locals.

Vandergriff had big innings in both games to win, scoring seven in the second inning of the opener and six off Wagner in the fifth inning of the nightcap.

The teams play a single game tonight to conclude the current series. The Vandergriff team continues to "jinx" the Nats at the Vandergriff park.

Ralph Ferranti pitched steady two-hit ball as West Pittsburgh edged Croton A. C. 3 to 0 in City league action Tuesday.

The win moved West Pittsburgh to within a game and a half of idle Universals and a full game behind second place Lawrence Indies.

West Pittsburgh got only four hits from the slants of Memo but J. Markey and A. Markey hit when it counted to drive in all three runs between Memo and J. Markey's safety went for two bases.

Ferranti's hurling kept Croton whitewashed throughout. He gave up two bases on balls and struck out three. Memo walked five and struck out two.

INDIES GAIN

The Lawrence Indies are today riding only one-half game out of first place in the city league.

Dusty Rhodes saw to that last night, as he pitched a brilliant one-hit performance against St. Margarets which the Indies won 9 to 0.

Rhodes issued one pass and struck out five Saint hitters in the contest. He had a no-hitter going into the last inning when a Rozzi nicked him for a harmless single.

The Indies, now one of the hottest teams in the league, parlayed six hits into nine runs with the help of four errors and seven bases on balls. Mosley was the only man to get two hits in the game and Semansky got the only extra-base clout, a double.

Batteries—St. Margarets, Sullivan, Stone and Masters; Lawrence Indies, Rhodes and Semansky.

FRANKS TRIP RYANTOWN

Franks Grille played heads-up baseball Tuesday night to take a 5 to 2 win from Ryantown.

Ryantown outthit the winners 7-6 but made three errors. The Franks had two stolen bases and pulled off a double play to stymie a Ryantown scoring chance.

Shriver on the mound for Franks kept the seven hits well scattered and had good support.

Big Don McCullough was the game's batting star. "Ozark" came through with three singles and scored a run.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Franks Grille... 230 000—5 6 0

Batteries—Ryantown, Davis, Orelli and Rausch; Franks Grille, Shriver and McCullough.

ECCLESIAIS SLUG CIVICS

Four extra-base hits including a pair of homers and a triple, helped the Ecclesians club to defeat Union Civics 13 to 7 in city league action Tuesday.

A homer and a double by DeFelle, Gentile's triple and another homer by Janacone helped to overcome Perretta's wildness.

The Civics got only four hits but made them good for seven runs. The winners, however, scored 12 times in the first three innings and were never in much danger of losing the contest.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Ecclesians... 606 000 1—13 13 0
Union Civics... 010 030—7 4 5

Batteries—Ecclesians, Perretta and DeFelle; Civics, T. Hilke and Via.

THIRD U. P. WINS

The Third U. P. softball team defeated the Central Presbyterians at Rose avenue last night 11 to 2. Dale Weisbaker was the winning hurler, McCormick the loser.

Home runs were hit by Gerry Potter, Robinson and Myers for the winners. Byler had a perfect night at bat with four for four.

FIRST BAPTISTS WIN

The First Baptist church softball team defeated the St. Vitus team 6 to 4 last evening, with Weller the winning hurler and Medure the loser. Pascarella had a home run.

The Baptists wish to correct a statement in The News Monday—the protest was against the First Methodist team and not the Central Presbyterians as stated in the paper.

Joe DiMaggio, the most dramatic figure in sports at the moment, has changed less through the years than any big-timer you can call to mind.

CHICAGO HORNETS SIGN JIM SMITH

CHICAGO, July 13.—(INS)—Coach Ray Flaherty of the Chicago Hornets announced today the signing of James "Bob" Smith, former University of Iowa star who played last year with Buffalo and Brooklyn of the all-American football conference.

Smith, the 25th Hornet to sign again for 1949, began his sports career at Will Rogers high school at Tulsa.

"Hard Tops" Racing At Canfield Track

CANFIELD, O., July 13.—The line up for the "Hard Tops" racing program at the Canfield Speedway tonight will include Elmer Wilson, Jimmy Florian, George Jackson, Buddy Huesman and Iggy Katona. Midget car stars, Wilson won the inaugural "Hard Top" program at the Canfield Speedway last month and Florian won the inaugural program at Sportsman's Park on July 4th.

The program will be run on Canfield's smooth quarter-mile midget track. Gates to the Speedway opening at 8:30; time trials at 7 and the first event promptly at 8:30.

Twaddle Reminds Golfers Of Cards

Bill Twaddle, local chairman, reminded all New Castle golfers who are planning to take part in the Pennsylvania Public Links golf tourney at Hershey, July 28, 29 and 30 that they must have their membership cards in order by Friday of this week. Anyone wanting a membership card can contact Twaddle at phone 7222-J or by calling at Room 211 in the Woods Building.

SPECTATOR HURT AT BASEBALL GAME

While watching a baseball game on the West Side, Tuesday evening, Don Kerr, of R. D. 2, Scotland Lane, attempted to stop a baseball hit in his direction, and had the webbing between the last two fingers of his right hand split open. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where his injuries were treated.

Musial Disappointed, Had Expected To Win

Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder and one of the National League's outstanding hitters, plays every game to the hilt, including all-star games. In the following article, Musial tells of his disappointment over the National League's 12th loss in 16 games. Stan, himself, hit a home run and two singles for the losing Nationals.

By STAN MUSIAL
(As Told to International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—We National leaguers can't seem to win for losing.

I thought sure we'd win this year's all-star game and break that string of victories the American league has built up since we took the 1944 game.

However, I can only say that we lost because we just didn't seem to be able to take advantage of the breaks we got.

Fortunate At Bat
We seemed to do plenty of hitting this time and we can't say the breaks weren't even. It was just that the American league took advantage of theirs again while we didn't.

I was pretty fortunate at bat. My home run in the first was off what seemed to be a slider. Mel Parnell, the first American league pitcher, seemed to throw a natural slider. I guess that's partly because he's left handed.

Pitchers No Concern

Although I'm a left handed hitter, I have little preference whether I bat against a southpaw or a right hander. They can be equally tough to hit. We look at plenty of southpaws, and if a fellow can't hit them, he just doesn't stay up here in the majors long.

I have always liked to hit in the Brooklyn ball park, and the all-star game was no exception, of course, that short right field wall is a left handed batter's dream.

Once again it was our league that showed the most power, although the American is supposed to be the home run circuit. But they just weren't paying off on home runs this time.

As I say, I was disappointed that we couldn't win. We'll just have to wait until next year, I guess.

Ray Dini, star quarterback of the Bethlehem, Pa., Bulldogs, has achieved a rare athletic distinction—a contract with a major league football team despite his lack of ever having played on a college gridiron.

Dan Topping, the well-known young millionaire, said he Yankees ought to win the pennant by 10 games at least if Joe DiMaggio's heel stays sound.

New Castle Legion Wins Second Game From Ellwood, 4-1

Gurgiolo And Martin Both Hurt
Three Hitters In County Tournament

New Castle American Legion defeated the Ellwood City Legion 4 to 1 at Washington field last night to advance into the third round of the county tournament.

It was the second straight night that the New Castle Legion defeated Ellwood and it dumped Ellwood out of the running for the county League championship.

Allows Three Hits

Gurgiolo pitched for New Castle and limited Ellwood to three hits, one of them a double by Fowler. Martin went all the way for Ellwood City and also gave up only three hits, including a double by Reed. Both pitchers struck out three.

Sansone, New Castle third baseman, made several outstanding plays.

New Castle won't play again until July 19, when they meet the winner of the New Wilmington-Wampum playoffs in a three game series.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
New Castle 100 003 0—4 3 1
Ellwood City 000 100—1 3 2
Batteries: New Castle—Gurgiolo and Andrews; Ellwood City—Martin and Hall.

New Wilmington Beats Bessemer In Legion Series

Eliminate Bessemer From Tournament; Yarells Pitches Shutout

New Wilmington American Legion defeated the Bessemer Legion 5 to 0 at New Wilmington last night to eliminate Bessemer in the county tournament.

It was the second straight win for New Wilmington over Bessemer and advanced them into the second round of the tournament. Yarells pitched the shutout for New Wilmington, limiting Bessemer to four hits. Heavy hitters for the game were Winters and Blake, of New Wilmington. Winters hit a triple and Blake a double.

DeArment allowed New Wilmington only five hits but they were good for five runs.

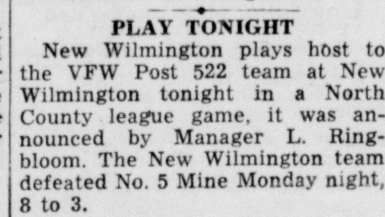

New Wilmington and Wampum play tonight in the first game of their second round series. Wampum drew a bye in the first round.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
N. Wilmington 022 000—5 5 1
Bessemer 000 000—0 4 0
Batteries: New Wilmington—Yarells and Campbell; Bessemer—DeArment and Gagliana.

PLAY TONIGHT

New Wilmington plays host to the VFW Post 522 team at New Wilmington tonight in a North County league game. It was announced by Manager L. Ringbloom. The New Wilmington team defeated No. 5 Mine Monday night, 8 to 3.

New York Stocks STOCK MARKET IS HIGHLY MIXED

Extreme Caution Is Shown In Trading Ranks Today In New York Market

NEW YORK, July 13.—(INS)—The stock market was a highly mixed affair today. Uncertainty over the status of the threatened steel industry strike made for extreme caution in trading ranks.

Steel issues were mostly lower. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were off 1-8 each, while Republic edged up 1-8.

Among the old-line industrial favorites, Chrysler was off 1-8 at 47 7-8; DuPont off 1-4 at 47 3-8; General Motor unchanged at 59 1-4; General Electric up 3-8 at 36 5-8; and Westinghouse unchanged at 23 1-8.

Rail shares performed well.

At 11 a. m. the Dow-Jones industrial averages were up 21 cents, the rails were up 28 cents and the utilities were nine cents higher.

Volume for the first hour totaled 220,000 shares, as against 180,000 in the same period yesterday.

The bond market was spotty, with rail shares under profit-taking.

Commodities were mixed. Wheat declined 7-8, corn was up 1-2 and cotton held steady.

Senate Race In New York Looms

Dulles Is Filling Out Term But May Not Be Nominated For Place

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, July 13.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's blunt announcement that he would not seek the Senate seat vacated by veteran Senator Robert F. Wagner (D), New York, threatened to put New York Republicans very much on the spot for a candidate—until Dewey appointed John Foster Dulles to the post.

Political experts expected the governor would nominate Dulles, his foreign adviser, to succeed Wagner until the runoff election. There is an uncertainty, however, that the GOP would nominate Dulles to succeed himself for a full term in the Senate. Democrats are bending all their efforts toward inducing former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman to seek the post. Lehman has the backing of newly-elected Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., (D), New York.

NEW STATESMAN
The recent Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in Paris saw the emergence on the world stage of France's Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

An unknown until precipitated into the arena of French politics, he is believed to have played the most important part in changing French psychology.

At previous meetings or other dealings with France, a fear of the emergency of a military Germany has plagued the French representative. It has become a national psychosis.

Schuman regards the peril lightly. New France as a whole takes the matter less seriously, due in part to the promise of the rearmament program and the North Atlantic Alliance.

Schuman, strangely, is a native of Lorraine, which was in German hands from 1870 to World War I. Until he served in the French army, fighting Germany, 1914-1918, he knew no word of French.

TARGET DATE

September 1st or 2nd is now being set as the tentative date for adjournment of Congress. Administration leaders are talking of winding up business and going home in time for the Labor Day week-end.

As the deadline for adjournment is July 31 under the provisions of the reorganization law, the House and Senate will have to adopt a resolution extending the session.

Keeping Congress here almost the entire summer will not prove popular with the legislators, but Democratic leaders consider it necessary.

One result will be that the president's eight governmental reorganization plans will be able to go into effect on the expiration of 60 days. The deadline is the week of August 20.

FAKE INVASION?

An interesting conviction held by some Latin American experts is that the recent "invasion" of the Dominican Republic was actually staged by its own purported victim, Dominican President Trujillo.

Many peculiar circumstances surrounding "sinking" of two sea planes bearing the "invaders" lead these experts to see something at least unusual in the "invasion."

However, of greatest significance is the fact that Dictator Trujillo is up against justification of a 15 million dollar military budget. Such a budget is unprecedented for one of the tiny Caribbean countries but Trujillo must have a big army to protect him against overthrow.

Impartial observers say Trujillo already is squeezing the last possible penny in taxes out of the country and that revolt was likely unless he could show the Dominican people that assault from without was possible.

Hence, it is believed that Trujillo arranged and paid for the "invasion." The "invaders," of course, were not informed that they would be slaughtered.

Only 59 Cases Of Smallpox, Reported In U. S. Last Year

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 13.—Only 59 cases of smallpox were reported in the United States during 1948, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. This establishes a new low for the one-time scourge at about one third the number of cases reported in 1947, and a fraction of one per cent of the 14,399 cases reported as recently as in 1938.

Last year twenty-seven states, including the solid block of eastern seaboard states from Maine through Virginia, the District of Columbia, and the three Pacific Coast states, were entirely free of the disease.

"It is disappointing to note that the down trend is not continuing into this year," the statisticians comment. "For the first five months of 1949 there have been 49 cases, as compared with 45 in the same period last year. We cannot afford to be complacent about smallpox as long as there is a single case of the disease within our borders. Vaccination and re-vaccination must continue as a safeguard against possible flare-ups of the disease from cases which may unwittingly come into the country."

COOKING BEEF TONGUE

Add peppercorns, whole cloves, a bay leaf, an onion, a carrot and a stalk of celery or a handful of celery leaves to the water in which a fresh or smoked beef tongue is cooked.

PIN-WORMS CAN CAUSE SERIOUS TROUBLE

Beware of Pin-Worms, ugly pests that live and grow inside the human body... and can cause serious trouble... even internal inflammation and bleeding. One of the danger signs is the tormenting rectal itch.

Don't take chances. Get Jayne's P-W Vermifuge. P-W's vital ingredient is a medically-approved drug that scientifically and easily destroys Pin-Worms and removes them from the body.

If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for P-W, the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by the famous Jayne Co., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Get real relief: P-W for Pin Worms!
